There was a man named Nicodemus, a Jewish religious leader who was a Pharisee. After dark one evening, he came to speak with Jesus.

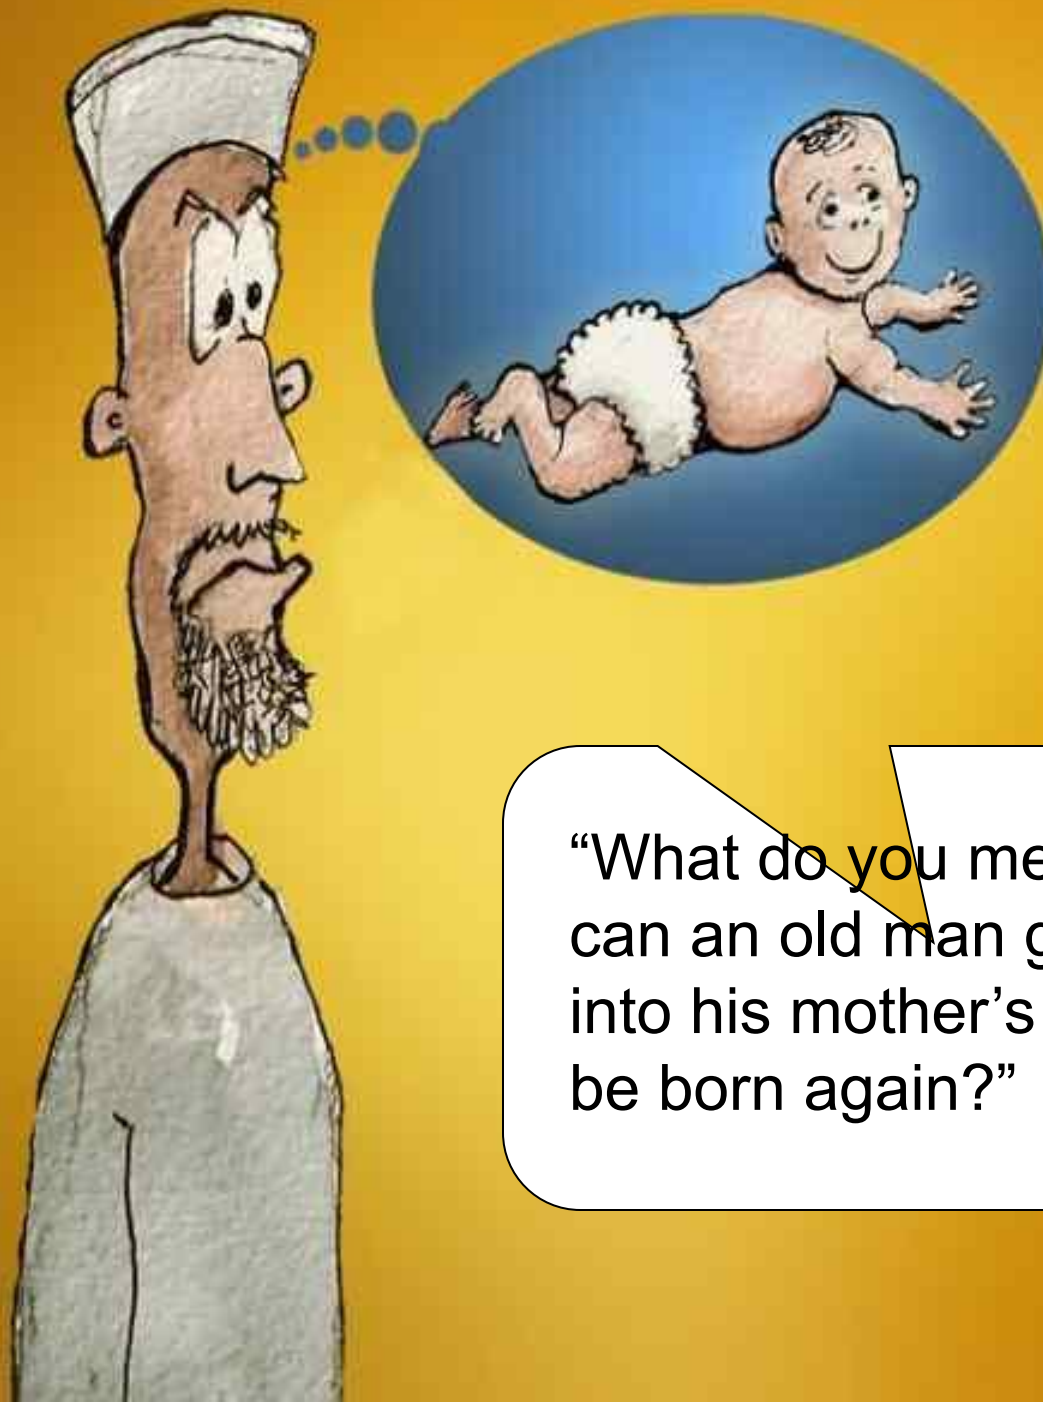

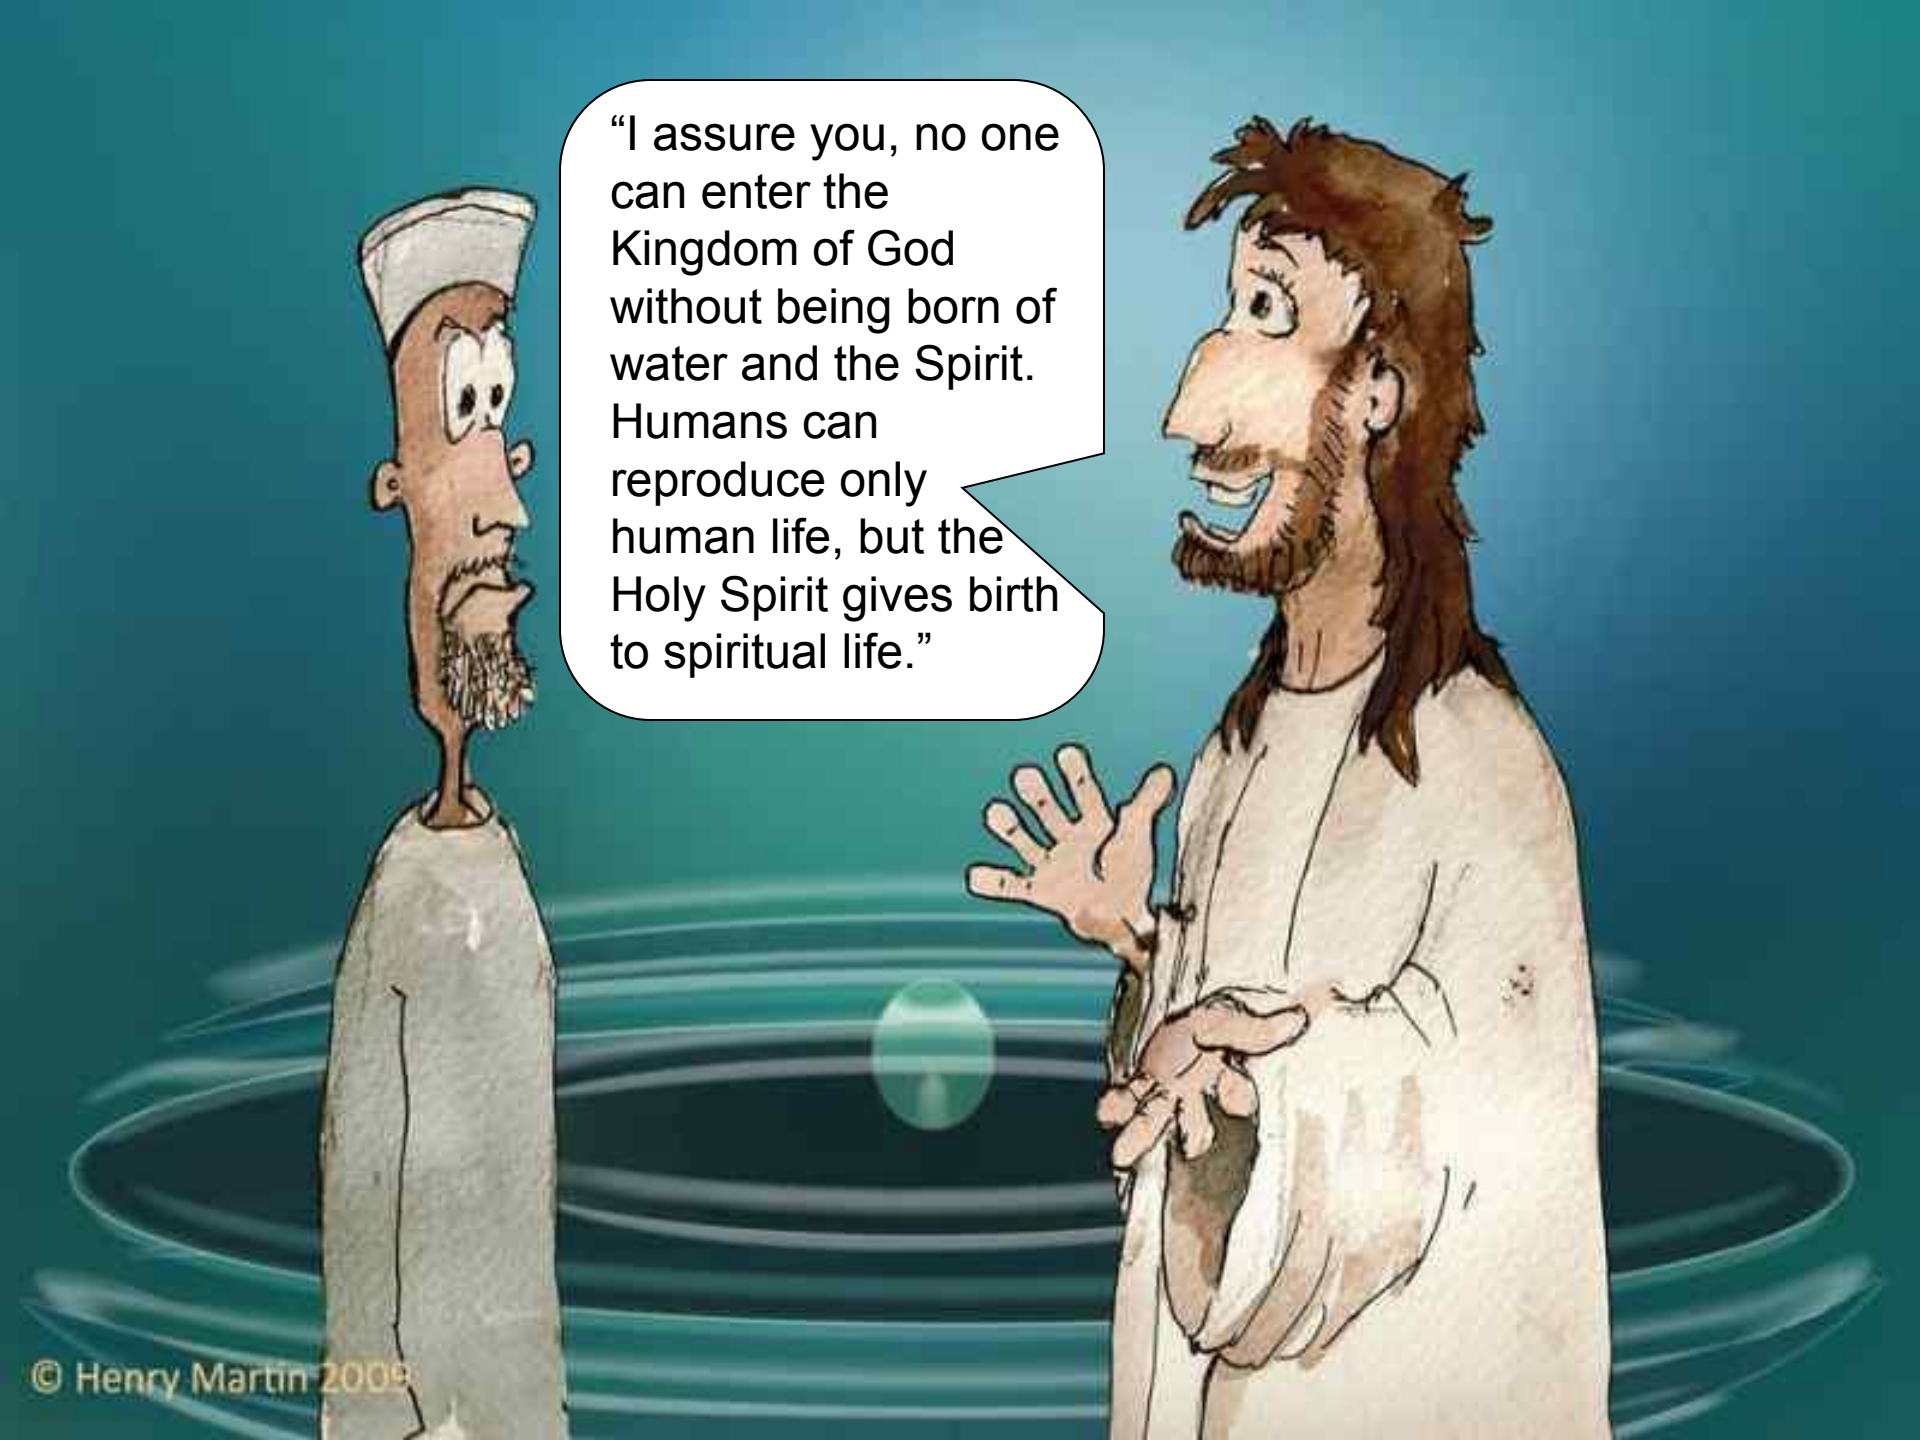

“Rabbi we all know that God has sent you to teach us. Your miraculous signs are evidence that God is with you.”

"I tell you the truth,
unless you are born
again, you cannot see the Kingdom of God."

“What do you mean? How can an old man go back into his mother’s womb and be born again?”

A cartoon illustration featuring two characters. On the left is a man with a long, thin neck, a small white cap, and a grey beard, looking towards the right. On the right is a man with long brown hair, a beard, and a white robe, gesturing with his hands as if speaking. They are standing in front of a body of water with concentric ripples. A speech bubble originates from the man on the right.

“I assure you, no one can enter the Kingdom of God
without being born of water and the Spirit.
Humans can reproduce only human life, but the Holy Spirit gives birth to spiritual life.”

“How are these things possible?”

As Moses lifted up the bronze
snake on a pole
in the wilderness,
so the Son of Man
must be lifted up,
so that everyone
who believes in him will have eternal life.

“For God loved the world so much that he gave his one and only Son, so that everyone who believes in him will not perish but have eternal life.”
