Please Do Not Touch

The skill and creativity shown by the weavers come from years of practice. Most weavers work on their rigs at home, while also tending to the daily chores of cooking, child care, going to the store, and herding sheep. The weavers have each worked about forty hours a week and are paid on hourly wages to demonstrate their craft. The rigs they make are well known for their excellent weaving skills and have won awards in international and rug shows.

Although many Navajo speak both Navajo and English, these women speak Navajo and very little English. Please direct your questions to the information desk clerk, the ranger on duty, or to the interpretor. If you are interested in purchasing one of these rigs or ordering another, contact the trader at Hubbell Trading Post.

The Hubbell Trading Post is a small community store in the heart of the Navajo Nation. It is a place where you can find everything you need for your trip, from food and supplies to clothing and gifts. The store is open every day from 9:00 AM to 5:00 PM. For more information, please contact the trader at Hubbell Trading Post.
