The rhinoceros is a large animal, and its skin is very thick and hard. It is covered in small, circular scales, which give it a bumpy appearance. The rhinoceros has a single, large horn on its nose, which is made of keratin. It is a very powerful animal, and it can charge at its prey with great force. The rhinoceros is found in the savannas of Africa and Asia. It is a very important animal, and it is being protected by the government.
