

Authoritarianism vs. Democracy

A comparison

How To Read This Presentation

- Each slide describes an aspect of government.
- The bullets written in red describe authoritarian or totalitarian systems.
- The bullets written in white represent democratic elements.

Extent of Government Power

- Authoritarian:
 - Government is not limited.

- Representative Democracy
- Government is limited by the consent of the people (republic)

Control of Power

- Power is held by an individual or small group (junta or group of generals)
- Power is exercised by elected officials who are chosen by ballot.

Civil Liberties and Rights

- Rights are not guaranteed in practice.
- Liberties and rights are guaranteed by a constitution.

Elections

- Elections do not offer a choice. Single party system is in effect.
- Elections offer a choice of candidates with differing ideas, usually in a two- or multi-party system.

Rule of Law

- Government does not always follow rule of law.
- Government and people are under the rule of law.

Maintaining Order

- Force or threat of force are used frequently to keep peace.
- Orderly demonstrations are legal and protests are guaranteed by law.
- Force is used only to restrain the disorderly.

