

St.Valentine's Day

St.Valentine's Day roots in several different legends that have found their way to us through the ages. One of the earliest popular symbols of the day is Cupid, the Roman god of love, who is represented by the image of a young boy with bow and arrow.

People of all ages and other countries love to send and receive valentines.

Handmade valentines, created by cutting hearts out of coloured paper, show that a lot of thought was put into making them personal.

O my dear Valentine

Whats life ?

Life is love.

Whats love ?

Love is kissing.

Whats kissing ?

Come here and I will show you.

Happy

Valentines Day

In elementary schools, children make valentines, they have a small party with refreshments. You can right a short rhyme inside the heart:

There are gold ships
And silver ships,
But no ships
Like friendship.

If you get a Valentine with a piece of a lace you may understand that the person who sent it must be crazy about you. Red roses are also often used as a love emblem.
