Children and parents

Children get upset, when their parents don't understand them ...

Parents often get mad with their children, because kids disobey them.

Strictness ...

 Children cry when their parents let them down.

They don't l

But what about friendship, trust, love end respect?

Violence...

I am a child.

I need your care and love.

I want you to play with me!

I expect you to pay attention to me.

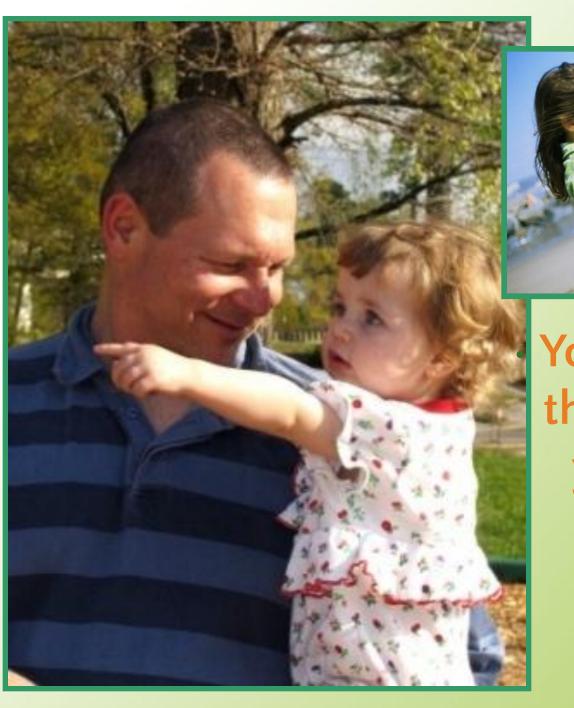

Parents should live in harmony with their children

If your child refuses to listen to you, try to understand him

They should pay attention to their children

Your family is all that you have in your own life
