

Jobs of the future

You are now choosing your future career and are considering what jobs are high in demand in the modern world. But actually you will start working full time in several years only so why not think about what jobs will be necessary then? In our world, which is rapidly changing, several years means a long time really. There will be more IT specialists in all spheres, especially in medicine. There will be genetic engineering affordable for all people. More and more things are done online nowadays so there will be people who regulate our life in the Internet like Internet lawyers, for instance. There will probably be eco psychologists – psychologists for animals and plants. More and more professions will be inevitably connected with exploring the outer space as well. So before making your final decision, try to look into the future of our planet and you will probably choose a job which will be popular in ten years' time.

You are considering going to this shopping centre and now you are calling to find out more information. In 1.5 minutes you are to ask five direct questions to find out the following:

- 1) location
 - 2) transport to get there
 - 3) price policy
 - 4) if there are any special offers at the moment
 - 5) shops and boutiques there
- You have twenty seconds to ask each question.

No3 Imagine that you took some photos when going to the Royal Edinburgh Military Tattoo last August. Choose the one to show to your friend.

In your talk remember to speak about:

- when you took the photo
- what/who is in the photo
- what is happening
- why you took the photo
- why you decided to show the picture to your friend

No4 be ready to compare and contrast the photographs:

- give a brief description of the photos (action, location)
- say what the pictures have in common
- say in what way the pictures are different
- say which style of clothing presented in the pictures you prefer
- explain why
