It is a tree of routing
paths through a portion of the Internet.

There are the most popular Internet
programs:

Google
Crome,
Mozilla
Firefox, Internet
Explorer, Skype and others

Now many people use the Internet

Now people use:

and connect the Internet

Back in the 1960-th, at the time of a cold war, Pentagon needed military systems that would continue to work even the phones and radio had broken down.

In 1964 Paul Baran connected 4 computers in different parts of the USA and posted a message . You couldn't destroy the Internet – if some computers will be broken down, the rest will work well.

When the late Senator Ted Kennedy heard in 1968 that the pioneering Massachusetts company BBN had won the ARPA contract for an "interface message processor (IMP)," he sent a congratulatory telegram to BBN.

Nobody owns the internet and

The early days of the web was a confused period as many developers tried to put their personal stamp on ways the web should develop. The visionary Michael Dertouzos of MIT's Laboratory for Computer Sciences persuaded Tim Berners-Lee and others to form the World Wide Web Consortium in 1994 to promote and develop standards for the Web.

Now isn't any one people who not use the Internet...

Well, the future of the Internet is ...
reality.
