Friday, Robinson's friend

- One day he rescued a man from the cannibals and named his Friday as a day when he saved him;
- Crusoe saved Friday from death and the boy saved him from solitude
- The man was about 26 years old and he was so thankful to Robinson that he became his servant;
- At first Friday was usual cannibal but Robinson taught him reading, writing, math and other things he knew, after that young man changed his views and moral as the intelligent person;
- He became a good friend, son, kind, faithful, not obstinate;
