The symbols of the USA are:

The flag of the USA is often called “The Stars and Stripes”. There are 50 stars on it: one for each state. The flag has 13 stripes. There are 7 red stripes and 6 white stripes: one stripe for each of the first 13 colonies of the USA.

The eagle became the official national symbol of the country in 1782. It has an olive branch (a symbol of peace) and arrows (symbols of strength). You can see the eagle on the back of the dollar bill.

One of the most famous symbols of the USA is the Statue of Liberty. France gave the statue to America in 1884 as a symbol of friendship. The Statue is in New York on Liberty Island.

“Uncle Sam” is a cartoon symbol of the American Government. He has appeared in magazines and newspapers for last 150 years. In 1812 Samuel Wilson sold meat to US Army. Everybody called him Uncle Sam. The first letters of his name US were the same as the first letters of the United States.

Geographical position

The USA occupies the central part of North America. It stretches from the Pacific to the Atlantic Ocean.

The USA borders.

The USA borders on Canada in the north and on Mexico in the south. It also has a sea-boarder with Russia. It also includes Alaska in the north and Hawaii in the Pacific Ocean.

The largest rivers are the Mississippi, the Missouri, the Rio Grande and the Columbia.

Their number depends on the population of the state.
2-year term*

The United States has two main political parties: the Democrats (the Donkey) and the Republicans (the Elephant).

There are other political parties too, but they play little if any role.

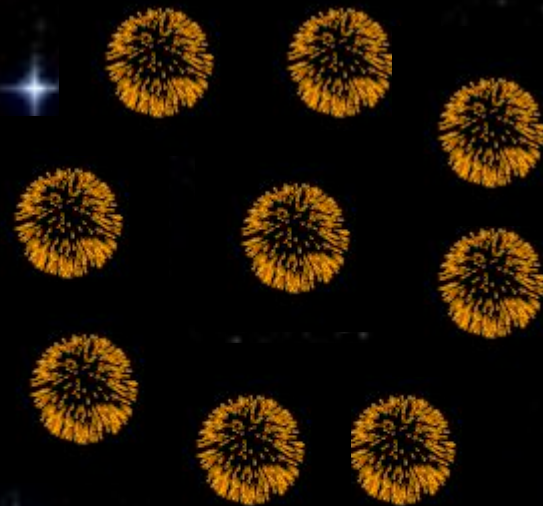

How to become President of the USA.

To become a US President you must...

- be 35 or older;
- be a US citizen born in the USA;
- have lived in the USA at least 14 years.

You can only serve two terms.

On July 4th 1776 the United States became independent from England.

On this day the Declaration of Independence was signed. It is a national public holiday celebrated with parades, patriotic music, public meetings and speech-making. There are picnics and barbecues, and in the evening there are big firework shows.

Flag Day June 14th

In 1777 the “ Stars and Stripes” became the official flag of the USA. When it was the flag’s hundredth birthday Americans first celebrated Flag Day in 1877.

A tall, silver flagpole stands in the center of the frame, topped with a large American flag that is waving in the breeze. The flag is positioned against a clear blue sky. In the background, several multi-story apartment buildings with balconies are visible, along with lush green trees at the bottom of the image. The overall scene is bright and sunny.

You can see the American flag in many places on this day, but it is not a main holiday, offices stay open.

Thanksgiving Day

Thanksgiving Day, the fourth Thursday in November. In the USA it is a national holiday. It was first celebrated in 1621 by the Pilgrim Fathers after their first harvest. Thanksgiving is a family day, for it is customary for all members of the family to gather at the home of their parents. The family eats a large traditional dinner, usually with turkey, cranberry sauce and pumpkin pie.
