ORGANIZATION & STRUCTURE:

For more information check the website: www.egea.eu

The screenshot shows the EGEA website interface. At the top is a navigation bar with links: home, activities, entities, forum, publications, discover, alumni. Below this is a login status bar indicating the user is logged in as 'milenci'. The main content area is titled 'entities support comm. news' and features a news item about the Entity Support Committee (ESC). The news item includes a description of the ESC's role and a photo collage of committee members. A sidebar on the left lists various committees and their functions. On the right, there is a profile section for the Entity Support Committee and a shoutbox with recent messages.

Entity Support Committee - general description published 13-10-2010 by milenci [edit]

The Entity Support Committee (ESC), as its name already indicates, supports all entities within the association if help is needed. But besides this, the ESC also gives student groups, that would like to establish an entity in their university, all the information and help need in order to do so. So basically this support is divided in two tasks: Helping entities to solve problems that appear and supporting those who want to join EGEA.

Ready to work even in strangest situations!!!

Contact us published 23-1-2009 by ES_Comm [edit]

If you wish to contact the Entity Support Committee, you can use:

- official e-mail address: entities.support.comm@egea.eu
- Contact Form on the website (select "Committee for entity support")

Trough these channels you can ask questions about new entities, how to start-up an entity, information about promotion, contact persons,... You can also ask for help if your entity has some problems - we will do our best to find some solutions with and for you!
