

ENGLISH FOOD

We have three main meals a day:

- Breakfast - between 7:00 and 9:00,
- Lunch - between 12:00 and 1:30 p.m.
- Dinner (sometimes called Supper) - The main meal. Eaten anytime between 6:30 and 8:00 p.m. (Evening meal)

Typical English Breakfast?

- ◎ The traditional English breakfast is called the 'Full English' and sometimes referred to as 'The Full English Fry-up'.
- ◎ Consists of eggs, bacon, sausages, fried bread, baked beans and mushrooms. Even though not many people will eat this for breakfast today.

Now-a-days, however, a typical English breakfast is more likely to be a bowl of cereals, a slice of toast, orange juice and a cup of coffee.

DINNER

- The evening meal is usually called 'tea', 'dinner' or 'supper'.

A typical British meal for dinner is meat and "two veg".

Hot brown gravy, traditionally made from the juices of the roast meat on the meat and usually the vegetables.

One of the vegetables is almost always potatoes.

- ◉ This traditional meal is rarely eaten nowadays, a recent survey found that most people in Britain eat curry! Rice or pasta are now favoured as the 'British Dinner'.
- ◉ Vegetables grown in England, like potatoes, carrots, peas, cabbages and onions, are still very popular.

Afternoon Tea and High Tea in England

◎ AFTERNOON TEA

- ◎ This is a small meal, not a drink. Traditionally it consists of tea (or coffee) served with either of the following:
- ◎ Freshly baked scones
- ◎ Afternoon tea sandwiches
- ◎ Assorted pastries

HIGH TEA

(The traditional 6 o'clock tea)

The British working population did not have Afternoon Tea. They had a meal about midday, and a meal after work, between five and seven o'clock. This meal was called 'high tea' or just 'tea'.

This meal is now often replaced with a supper due to people eating their main meal in the evenings rather than at midday.

Tea

- Britain is a tea-drinking nation. Every day we drink 165 million cups of the stuff and each year around 144 thousand tons of tea are imported.
- Tea breaks are when tea and biscuits are served. The traditional time for tea breaks are at 11:00 am (Elevensee) and 4 pm in the afternoon.
- Tea in Britain is traditionally brewed in a warmed china teapot, adding one spoonful of tea per person and one for the pot. Most Britons like their tea strong and dark, but with a lot of milk.

Did you know?

- ◉ If someone asks you if you 'would like a cuppa', they are asking if you would like a cup of tea.
- ◉ If someone says 'let me be mother' or 'shall I be mother', they are offering to pour out the tea from the teapot.

Drinks

- Coffee is now as popular in Britain as tea is. People either drink it with milk or have it black

- Britain is also well known for its ale which tends to be dark in appearance and heavier than lager. It is known as "bitter"

Pies in England

- Pies are very popular in England. Pies are a baked dish consisting of a filling such as chopped meat or fruit enclosed in or covered with pastry (a mixture of flour and butter).
