

English Slang

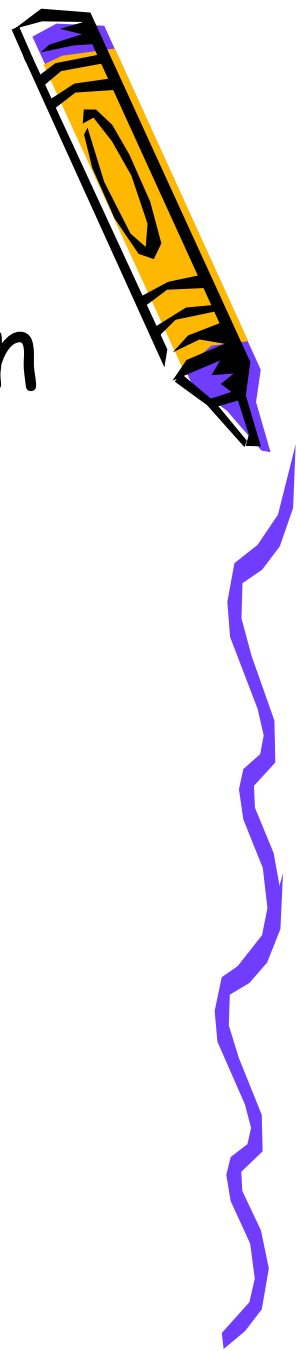

English slangs are also differentiated by region and country.

- . "Mate" in the UK, Australia, New Zealand, and South Africa
- "Man" in the United States and Canada

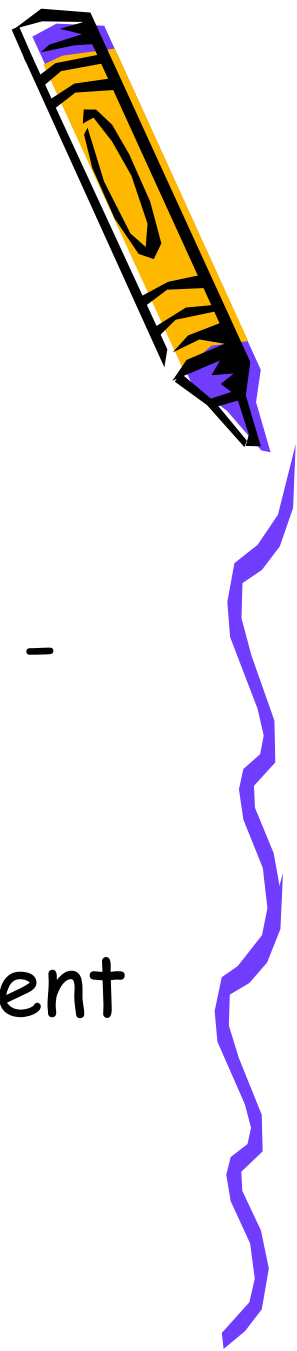

English slang extend into many different areas of conversation

- "Amigo" - friend
- "no problemo" - "no problem"
- "adios" - "goodbye."

A great number of English slang words are related to describing other people.

- "hottie" , "hot" , a "babe" or a "fox" - attractive
- a "nerd" or a "geek" - overly intelligent

Slangs in English also include words for your significant other

- "baby"
- "babe"
- "honey"
- "sweetheart."

1) British slang:

- A) Cockney rhyming slang
- B) Back slang

2) American slang

3) Australian slang

British slang:

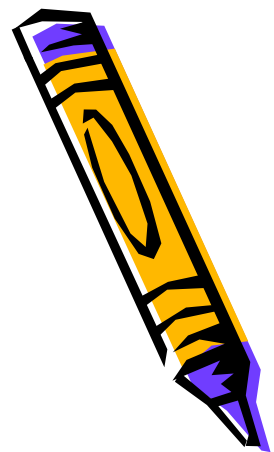

A) Cockney rhyming slang

- Loaf of Bread = Head
- Think! Use your Loaf of Bread

- Adam and Eve = Believe
- Would you Adam and Eve it?

• Britney Spears = Beers

Let's go for a few Britney Spears!

Back slang

Boy-yob

apple – elppa

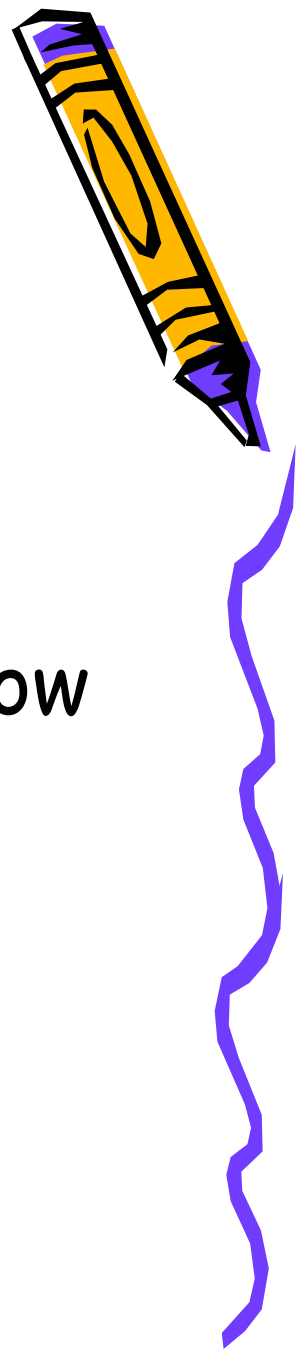

girl – elrig

penny – yennep

“have you a bit of tobacco?”

“vatch you a tib of occabot?”

Australian slang is informal language used in Australia.

- It can never hurt to say "G'day, How are ya goin'" to an Aussie

- Greetings
- Eating and Drinking
- People
- Geography
- Places

