

GERMAN TRADITIONS

National characteristics

Berlin Calendar loaded to the limit of annual fairs, festivals and concerts. The Berlin Film Festival, the second largest in the world, held in February. Christopher Street Day is great fun and the City Parade (June), in early July, held a grand parade of love. The Berlin Jazz Festival is held in October, and Christmas are massive sales, many of which also turned into a true celebration. In Hamburg, the International Fair of Tourism go "Reisen Hamburg," International Exhibition "Hansebut" and others throughout Germany are winter festivals that turn into big cities in the massive carnivals. The rich musical heritage is the foundation of Germany's many music festivals. Some cities are accented on any single composer - Thuringian Bach Festival in March and Festival in Beirut Wagner (July).

MAIN PLACES OF INTEREST

Berlin called the great "textbook history in stone." There are over 130 museums. The largest museum venues - Museum Island, Charlottenburg Palace and its environs Museums in Dahlem and Cultural Center in the Tiergarten ... There is even a mausoleum (built it in 1810, Friedrich Wilhelm III). In the city of three opera houses, the Old and the New National Gallery, eight symphony orchestras, theaters and more than 150 scenic sites and most of all football teams in the Bundesliga. Here the majestic gate Bradenburg(1788-1791 gg.), The German State Opera, the Reichstag (1884-1894 gg.) Street Unter den Linden, the Bellevue Castle (1785), the Kaiser Wilhelm church.

Part II

Munich, capital of Bavaria, often called the "German Rome." Artistic, architectural and historical riches the city is very big - only museum in Munich, there are more than fifty - Glyptothek with a collection of Greek and Roman works of art, picture gallery with a rich collection of paintings, Army Museum, the Museum of Science and Technology, Numismatic Collection, National and ethnographic museums. There is a museum of toys, hunting and fishing, musical instruments, fashion, and so on.

cuisine

The country has quite varied cuisine, a legacy of many people living or residing in the territory. Bavarian cuisine is huge portions and the "village" simplicity. The most famous dish - roast pork with sauerkraut, sausages famous Munich "vaysvy urshteln" salted pretzels and delicious "Brothers." Widely used and dishes are traditionally considered Italian. On the coast of the North and Baltic seas, most traditional dishes made from fish. It is fried, smoked, baked and marinated in various ways, as well as prepare delicious soups. Business Card Gemanii - beer, which is especially famous for Bavaria. Beers here in abundance. It is also widely known

THE
END