Target learners

The learners:

1-2nd or 3d year undergraduates, postgraduates focusing in different fields of engineering and technology

Levels:

from pre-intermediate to advance

Structure of the course

- Warming-up activities.
- Thorough step-by-step instructions on how to prepare and deliver a presentation
 - Preparation
 - Introduction
 - Main part
 - Conclusion & questions
- Follow-up activities
- Students' presentations based on the knowledge received
- Analysis of the students' presentations

Goals to achieve

- to make a clear-cut, well-organized presentation for University studies, post-graduate studies, as well as business or research
- to creatively synthesize what you have learned
- to make sure that organizing and giving presentations and public speaking of any kind becomes a pleasure and not a burden

Approaches

presentation should

- intrigue, provoke, and inform an audience
- be short intensive specialist-informative
- dig into the topic
- be thought provoking
- be enthusiastic (enthusiasm is infectious; audiences can't help but be affected by it)
- have a clear structure
- be made with a good sense of timing (not more than 10 minutes !!!)
- create rapport

Warming-up activities

Brainstorming Questions:

- What is a presentation?
- When is a presentation made? Is it only for business?
- Have you ever made a presentation? Was it successful?
- What do you think is essential to make a successful presentation?
- How to prepare for a presentation?
- What is a general structure of a presentation?
 (Introduction, outline, main part, summary, conclusion)

Communication skills

- structuring information
- using an appropriate style of language
- exploiting visual aids
- adopting the right body language

Tips on how to become a good presenter

to be learnt by heart

Don't

- 1. LEAVE NOTHING TO CHANCE
 - Check everything before you are due to speak room, seating, visibility, acoustics and equipment.
- 2. KNOW EXACTLY HOW TO START

 the first minute of your presentation down to the last detail. Try to memorize your opening words. This will help you to sound confident and in control.
- 3. GET STRAIGHT TO THE POINT waste time on long boring introductions. Try to make at least one powerful statement in the first two minutes.
- 4. TALK TO YOUR AUDIENCE
 of the best presentations sound more like conversations. So, keep referring back to your audience, ask them questions, respond to their reactions.
- 5. KNOW WHAT WORKS things are always popular with an audience: personal experiences, stories with a message, dramatic comparisons, amazing facts they didn't know. Use them to the full.

- 6. BE CONCISE
 - Keep your sentences short and simple. Use deliberate pauses to punctuate your speech.
- 7. SPEAK NATURALLY

Don't be afraid to hesitate when you speak, but make sure you pause in the right places. Remember, you are not an actor trying to remember lines. A certain amount of hesitation is actually quite natural.

- 8. KNOW YOUR AUDIENCE
 - Speak for your audience, not .yourself. Take every opportunity to show how much common ground you share with them. Address their goals, their needs, their concerns
- 9. TREAT YOUR AUDIENCE AS EQUALS

 Never talk down (or up) uo-your audience. Treat them as equals, no matter who they are.
- 10. BE YOURSELF

As far as possible, speak to five hundred people in much the same way you would speak to five. You will obviously need to project yourself more, but your personality shouldn't change.

- 11. TAKE YOUR TIME
 - Whenever you make a really important point, pause and let the full significance of what you have said sink in . . . before you move on.
- 12, DON'T MAKE A SPECIAL EFFORT TO BE FUNNY,

 If you make a joke, don't stop and wait for laughs. Keep going and let the laughter (if it comes) interrupt you

to be learnt by heart

- 13. LET YOUR VISUALS SPEAK FOR THEMSELVES
 - Good visuals are just that visual. Don't put boring tables of figures and long lines of text on the overhead and read them out. Stick to the main points. Experiment with three-dimensional charts, cartoons, interesting typefaces anything to catch your audience's attention.
- 14. NEVER COMPETE WITH YOUR VISUALS

When showing a visual, keep quiet and give people time to take it in. Then make brief comments only. Point to the relevant parts of the visual as you speak. If you want to say more, switch off your projector to do so.

- 15. DEVELOP YOUR OWN STYLE
 - Learn from other public speakers, but don't try to copy them. Be comfortable with your own abilities. Don't do anything that feels unnatural for you, just because it works for someone else.
- 16. ENJOY THE EXPERIENCE

The secret of being an excellent speaker is to enjoy the experience of speaking - try to enjoy the experience!

• 17. WELCOME QUESTIONS FROM YOUR AUDIENCE

When members of your audience ask you a question, it is usually because they have a genuine interest in what you are saying and want to know more. Treat questions as an opportunity to get your message across better.

18. FINISH STRONGLY

When you are ready to finish your presentation, slow down, and lower your voice. Look at the audience and deliver your final words slowly and clearly. Pause, let your words hang in the air a moment longer, smile, say

Choose the subject for your future presentation:
