

London Underground.

Scheme

The Underground has got 274 stations got 274 stations and over 408 km got 274 stations and over 408 km of track . Some lines and stations were also closed after a time.

History of London Underground

The London Underground is a system of electric electric trains operating in London. It started running in 1863 as Metropolitan Railway. It is the oldest underground railway in the world.

From 2006 From 2006 - 2007 over 1 billion passengers used the underground.

- The London underground is very beautiful thanks to many things. For example pictures .

Photo copyright 2005 Eric Haas

