

Market "Boro" located under the railways station London Bridge - the oldest food market of the British capital, and one of the most charming.

You sell only quality products, and a huge selection of food research involves not only Londoners but also tourists.

"Boro" - an ideal place for lovers of good food.

Around the market is a huge number of restaurants and cafes where you can relax from the hustle.

Food Market exists at this place for nearly 2,000 years, and the market "Boro" - more than 250 years. "Boro" - a covered market, where you can escape from London unreliable weather. Every morning here deliver fresh produce from the best farms in England.

In the market there are shelves of fruit, vegetables, meat, fish, pastries and exotic products brought from all over the world.

Sellers are arranged with great love products on the shelves, making enormous efforts in order to make "Boro" a real feast for the eyes and stomach.

It holds regular workshops on processing of certain foods, cooking recipes for unusual, played prizes for housewives.

Here you can buy: frozen fish ...

...Vegetables...

...Cheese...

...Bread...

...Sauces...

Biltong

From Thursday to Saturday market is open to everyone, but at other times it is only for wholesalers.

• Project the name
«Borough»
Zabyvorota Ann
Form 7
School № 3