MUSIC CAN CHANGE THE MOOD OF THE PEOPLE

An aerial photograph of a large, deep blue lake. A white, winding path or road is visible, forming a large, irregular heart shape in the center of the lake. The path starts from the bottom right, curves around the right side, then loops back to the left, and finally curves back down to the right. The surrounding area is a mix of blue water and some lighter, possibly forested or grassy, land.

Music provides people with a way to express their feeling.
