

Moscow State University

The Faculty of Foreign Languages and Area Studies

To start with...

- We do appreciate the opportunity to meet you.
- We do appreciate the opportunity to communicate with you.
- We do appreciate your interest and we promise to do our best for it not to fade.
- We do..
- ..what we can where we can, and we do like it. Let's have a look together!

Moscow State University

The foundation

When?

In 1755 on the 25-th of January (St. Tatiana's Day)

By whom?

By the Empress Elizabeth.

The foundation

Mikhail Vasilyevich Lomonosov...

...was a Russian polymath, scientist and writer. Among his discoveries was the atmosphere of Venus. In 1755 Lomonosov joined Count Ivan Shuvalov in founding the Moscow State University.

The Pharmaceutical House - the first building of Moscow University. XVIII century

The Lecture-Halls building at the end of the XIX century

Today's 31-stored Main Building on the Sparrow Hills

Some figures about MSU

- 41 departments
- a choice of 128 qualifications
- 11 Nobel prize winners among professors and academicians
- the number of students, postgraduates and interns - more than 60 000
- more than 8000 professors
- about 4000 students and postgraduates from 80 countries

Back in USSR

- In Soviet Russia:

- Languages are taught for comprehension
- No opportunity to communicate with the native speakers
- Language learners put their life at risk

“perestroyka”

- Today:

- Languages are taught for production
- Here we are, talking to each other!
- Everybody has to learn at least one foreign language

The Faculty of Foreign Languages and Area Studies

- comparatively new – founded in 1988 under the direction of our dean, Svetlana Grigorievna Ter-Minasova

Set up for:

- training the experts in international communication, required by the changes in the country
- learning a real foreign language:
2 or more + Latin
(as the father of European languages)

Our faculty is divided into five main departments:

- ◆ Translation and interpretation
- ◆ Teaching
- ◆ Cross-cultural communication
- ◆ Area studies
- ◆ Cultural studies

Our thanks to...

- ...our beloved dean Svetlana Grigorievna, who filled the faculty with that wonderful spirit of family, confidence and creativity.

Leisure time

The first organized meeting with the first-year students of the year is called "flowerbed"

because it is traditionally held at the backyard of the faculty next to the flowerbed

Great opportunity for the freshmen and exchange students to get to know the main people of the faculty

The Day of the Faculty

It's an anniversary of the foundation of our department – the Faculty of Foreign languages and area studies.

According to a tradition our dean makes a speech

Then first year students give an oath of allegiance

Students and professors make performances

We're having a great time!

Lingva – the students' magazine

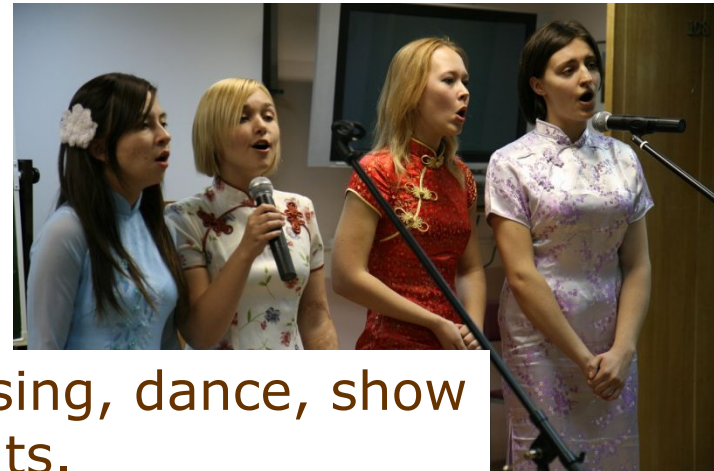

Anyone can try their hand at journalism and write an article for our faculty magazine.

«Muz salon» – or music lounge

Students sing, dance, show their talents.

The atmosphere is very friendly there.

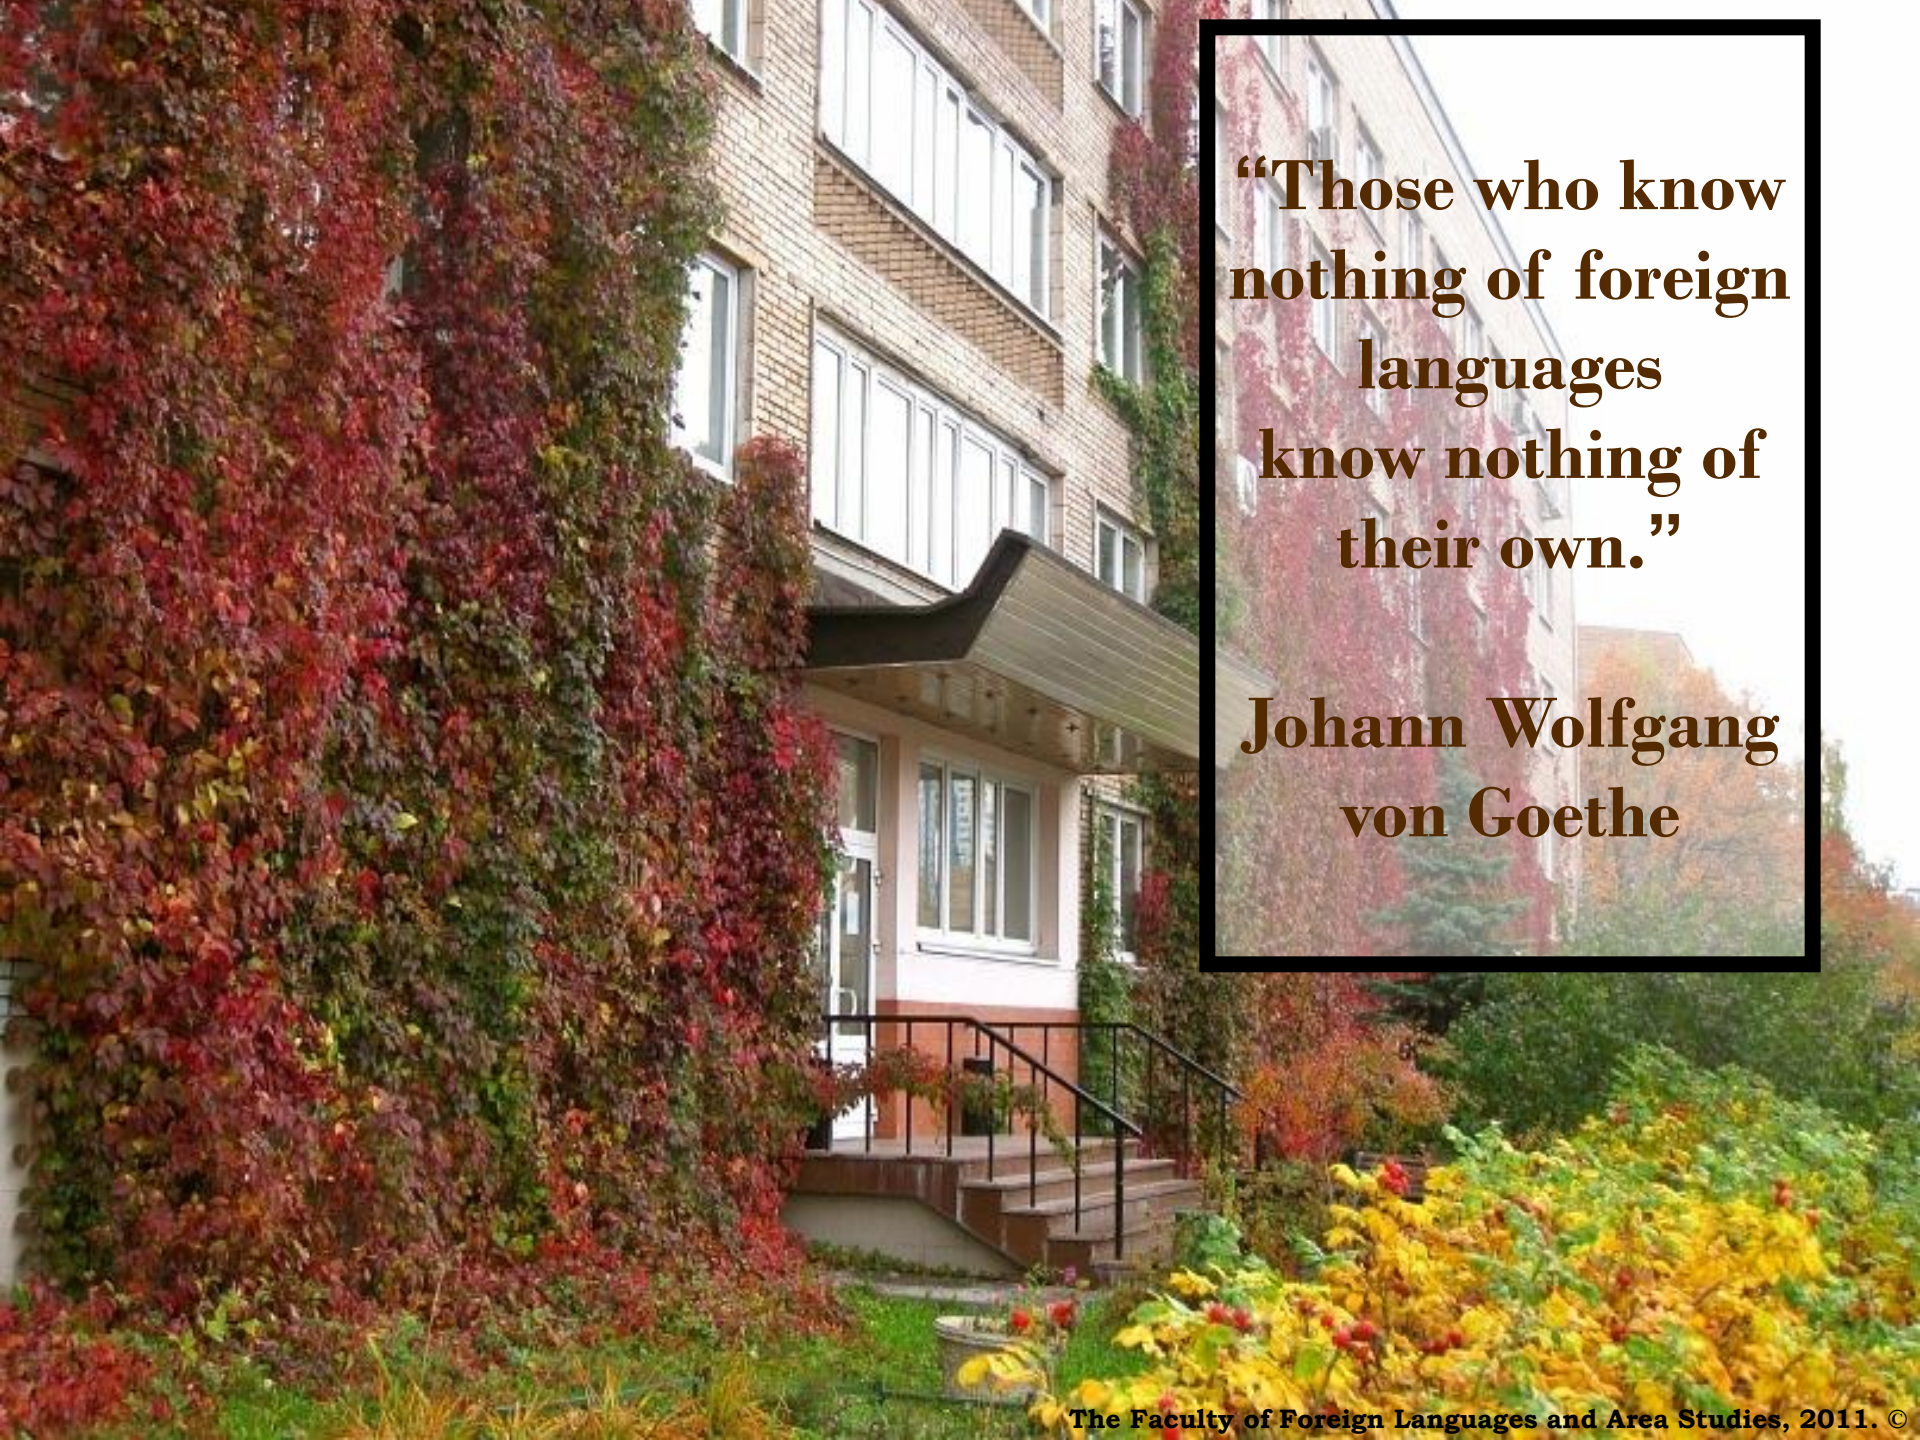

Small family...
