THE POLITICAL SYSTEM OF THE USA

Government

- Presidential Republic
- 50 states, centralized government in Washington
- Separation of powers

Separation of powers

Executive

(=ausführende Gewalt)

leading the affairs of the state

Cabinet

- President
- Vice President
- 15 ministers

Legislative

(=gesetzgebende Gewalt)

enacting (=erlassen) and discussing laws

Congress

- House of Representatives (435)
- Senate (100)

Judiciary

(=rechtssprechende Gewalt)

Pushing through the laws

Supreme Court

(=highest judicial body)

Presidential elections

- Plurality voting system: „The winner takes all!“
- Election of a party in form of electors
- Elected electors represent the opinion of their state in the „Electoral College“
- The party with the most votes gets all the electoral votes of this state -> The parties have to look that they win in the states with a high amount of electors.

Problem

- Parties and candidates try to get as many as possible votes in states with a high amount of electors and ignore the others
- The party with more than 270 electoral votes wins, though an other one has more votes of the people in fact (f.e. Bush vs. Gore)

George W. Bush

- 43rd President since 2000
- Republican Party
- „Compassionate conservatism“
(=mitfühlender Konservatismus)

Bush's policy

- War against terrorism „for God“
- No Kyoto Protocol
- Mistakes after hurricane Katrina
- „Golden Raspberry“ for „Fahrenheit 9/11“

Discussion

- Compare the government of the USA and Switzerland. What are the similarities and the differences? Which one do you find better?
- Discuss about Bush's policy. Think about things like death penalty, environment, wars, establishment of Christianity, a.s.o.

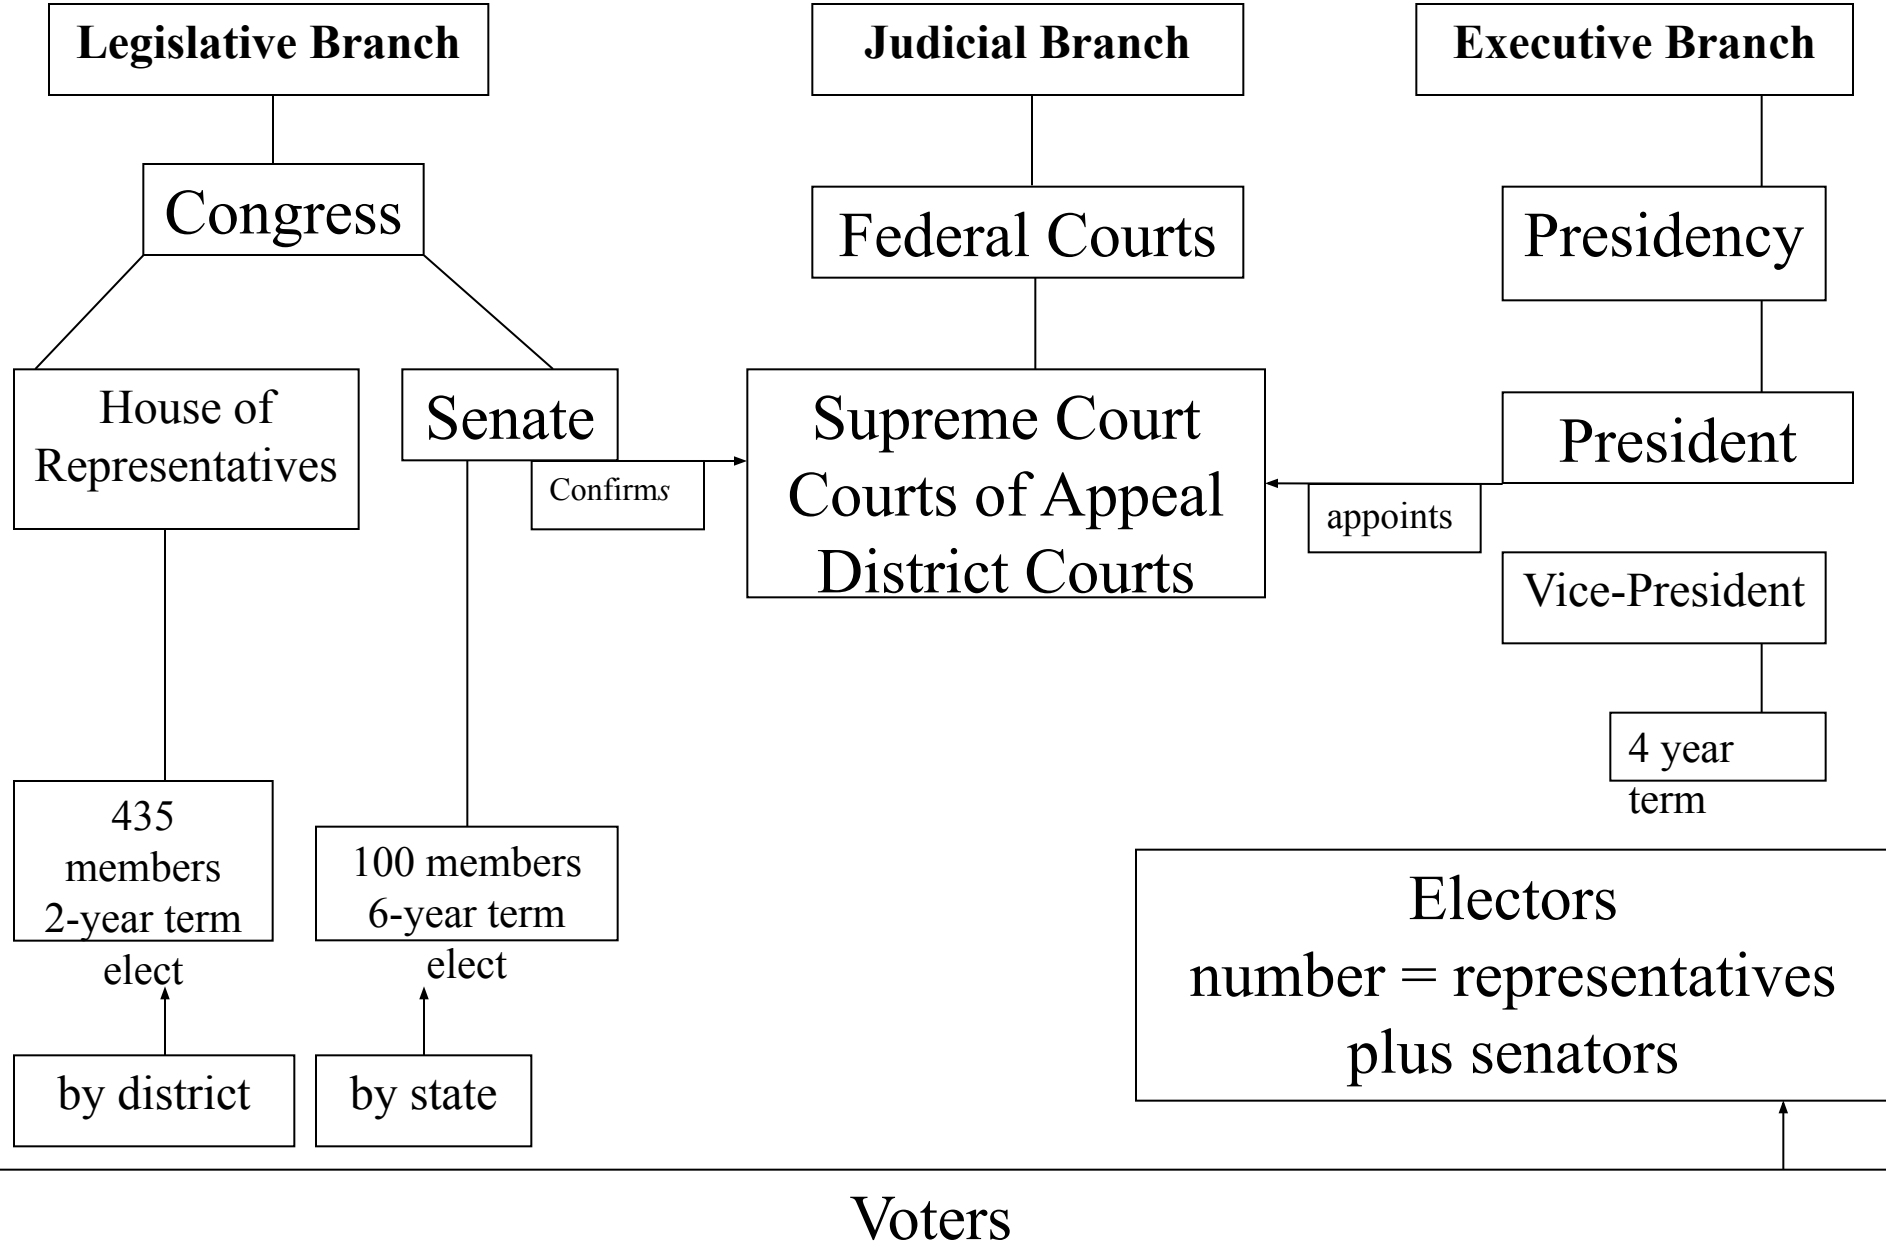

Barack Hussein Obama II

(born August 4, 1961) is the 44th and current President of the United States. He is the first African American to hold the office. Obama previously served as a United States Senator from Illinois, from January 2005 until he resigned after his election to the presidency in November 2008.

A native of Honolulu, Hawaii, Obama is a graduate of Columbia University and Harvard Law School, where he was the president of the Harvard Law Review. He was a community organizer in Chicago before earning his law degree. He worked as a civil rights attorney in Chicago and taught constitutional law at the University of Chicago Law School from 1992 to 2004.
