The concept of a television cycle «Road to the sea»:

Psychologists consider, that in representation of the majority of people water and nearby the water environment is a special world, positive space where dreams come true and there are events, impossible in an ordinary life.

The analysis of a television announcement shows, that the water theme remains while free though possesses huge rating potential. Passing of one "Talk show" in another, receptions and used stereotypes any more do not provide truly high rating of programs of a prime-time. The offered telecycle possesses cardinal novelty both under the form and under the maintenance.

Voyages, sailing, shipbuilding, sea history, youth education in long voyages, sea museums - all can be united it concepts «sea culture» and «a sea civilisation» to which our cycle is devoted. 16 series «Roads to the sea», are made during the period with 1989 on 1999 of there were on air of the First channel of the central TV of Russia at first as independent, and then in popular programs «Club of travellers».

The main way of "extraction" of the material "extreme" is the mobile studio onboard a new Russian yacht - a catamaran. It does the spectator by the direct accomplice, «a member of a command» our crew. Modern technologies allow to place a videocamera in any point of a catamaran flying in the storm sea and to show the most extreme situations and plots. Telecycle start will transform our swimming into "reality show". The spectator will feel on itself a sea life literally: work of the helmsman, the navigator and the radio operator, cooking, struggle against seasickness and struggle for survivability of the ship ...

He will understand, that the ocean is "excited environment", having got in which the person struggles for a life literally and not always wins this struggle. That it will be more pleasant and more clear for the spectator returning to the earth in port which frequently is far from tourist routes. The spectator is waited for by a meeting with a museum of the ship "Victory" and an admiral Nelson, history of "the Cup of America» and many other things.

Our route will be crossed with routes of educational sailing vessels: "Krusenstern", «Sedov», a brig "Royalist". The life on the big sailing vessels is literally impregnated by sea traditions about which we will tell. Certainly, all possible adventures and teleplots are difficult for planning, but long-term experience and professionalism of a film-making brigade and catamaran crew guarantee a high quality end result.

For 5 months of expedition our catamaran can visit from 5 to 8 countries (Finland, Germany, Denmark, France, Italy, England, Switzerland, etc.) We will pick up routes in such a manner that we can participate at least in one race in each country and tell about history of these races (to show race from within), to communicate to organizers, captains and to visit yacht clubs, for this time is planned to finish shooting a material for 36 programs, for 15-20 minutes everyone.
