 Ray Charles, aka Geaxade, was once a pretty-pushing disc-jockey who managed a clock at the Om Record headquarters and dreamed of making music for a living. Three years later, the Chicago native's one of Om's and San Francisco's hottest rising stars, and cuts off his dreads and goes to "It's Your Time" (Om). Om can be found scored in the past just about every respected house DJ from San Antonio — that's Bina, not

 Too Pure

Margaret Field and Guy Trépan, aka Laika, explore the territory between indie rock and electronica, layering elements one on top of the other to create a space, Spectro-like "wall of sound."

It's rhythmic but I dare you to try and beat it, move to it which means I'll probably get tagged a chill-out or lounge album and put out in the suburbs. But let me ask you three, Laika's otherworldly style is free to roam and routine rhythm, while the rest of the world tries to catch up.

Kindergarten Tots to Get Free Vaccine

City Adds $4,000 To First Program

Some 64,000 kindergarten children will get free diphtheria shots that spring as a result of a sudden shift today in Board of Education policy.

In spite of the confusion as to exactly the city will do, word now comes that the Board of Education will order that all kindergarten children under five to be vaccinated against the fourth germ.

The previous setup, as announced last September, was that the city would supply the vaccine and the parents, after a doctor's examination, would be taken care of by Dr. Andrew H. Estey, who is placed in a second division.

But the Board of Education, after a long session, decided to change of child vaccine, and to have all kindergarten children vaccinated by the city's health department.

"There will be no charge," said Dr. Estey, "and the parents will be notified by the health department."

The change in the kindergarten program was announced by the Board of Education at its meeting today. The change was made by the Board of Education at its meeting today. The change was made by the Board of Education at its meeting today.
