

SHROVETIDE IN OLD RUSSIA

- It was one of the most ancient festivals of the pagan Slavs. The most important God was Yarilo, the God of the Sun and Fertility. According to ancient beliefs, it was necessary to help Yarilo in his fight against winter, and accordingly the rituals of calling in the spring were observed. In fact, the whole week was filled with festive rituals, fun and games.

Pancake-eating was the main element of Shrovetide.

They were served with

- Butter\Sour cream
- Honey\Jam
- Caviar\Salted fish

Pancakes, round and hot, symbolised Yarilo. The Slavs believed that by eating pancakes they received the vital powers, light, warmth of the sun
