

School radio station.

Radio.

- Radio as a form of media term "radio" (from the Latin radius - ray , radio, radiare - emit , emit rays) implies a method of transmitting messages over long and short distances using radio waves. A wave rolls from the source to the receiver. The receiver is also our ear . The term "radio" (from the Latin radius - ray , radio, radiare - emit , emit rays) implies a method of transmitting messages over long and short distances using radio waves. A wave rolls from the source to the receiver. The receiver is also our ear . Radio journalism - a kind of journalism that uses the technical potential of radio .

- As part of a school radio studio can be a number of versions. Editions are small, mobile groups of students who are preparing radio programs on certain topics. Of course, this should be a topic that the students themselves are more attracted to: music, local history, a book club, the rules of etiquette, everyday stories and so forth

- DJ is very important to have a good understanding of music and be able to speak easily and correctly. And well, if you have a sense of humor, the audience is immediately appreciated. To attract more people, you can spend in school casting for the role of a DJ. Competition and the competition will help bring out the best of the best. And the extra attention the school radio studio can not hurt.

- School radio should work closely with the school's site, and then the results of polls, and the most interesting materials will be promptly posted on the web

