

SHOPPING IN LONDON

THE BEST SHOPPING'S STREET

Oxford street is one of the biggest streets in London and one of the most famous commercial streets in the world.

There are more than 300 shops

SELFRIDGES

The largest department store in Oxford Street is 'Selfridges'. It's a shopper's paradise with nice clothes and a lot of sales.

HARRODS DEPARTMENT STORE

- Harrods is impressive because:
- It is a luxury shopping center;
- It is huge;
- It is situated in the center of London

The Disney Store in Oxford Street is the largest in Europe. It's the home for billions of toys, fairytale and miracle.

The second London street that you are most likely to visit to do

your shopping is Regent's Street.

This street is packed with kinds of shops.

www.shutterstock.com · 82661638

The main reason for your mentioning this one is, the Hamley's store.

There every child's dream come true

It is known as the largest shopping and entertainment centre.

There are more than 300 shops, 40 cafes, 5 playcentres, skating ring, bowling and cinema with 50m. high t screen.

At the start COVENT CARDEN MARKET was born as market for fruit and vegetables for the local convent. This place is full of stalls (food), jewels and clothes. There are about 200 famous brands in this market.

Camden is busy, exciting, trendy market, and there are lots of bargains! You can buy cheap jeans and cool second hand clothes and get a tattoo and a body piercing there. If all that shopping is too tiring, you can get some Chinese or Thai food for $2 or $3.

MARKET

KEEP CALM AND GO SHOPPING