

The Family Law

ticket 5

The law sees the family as a special institution!!!

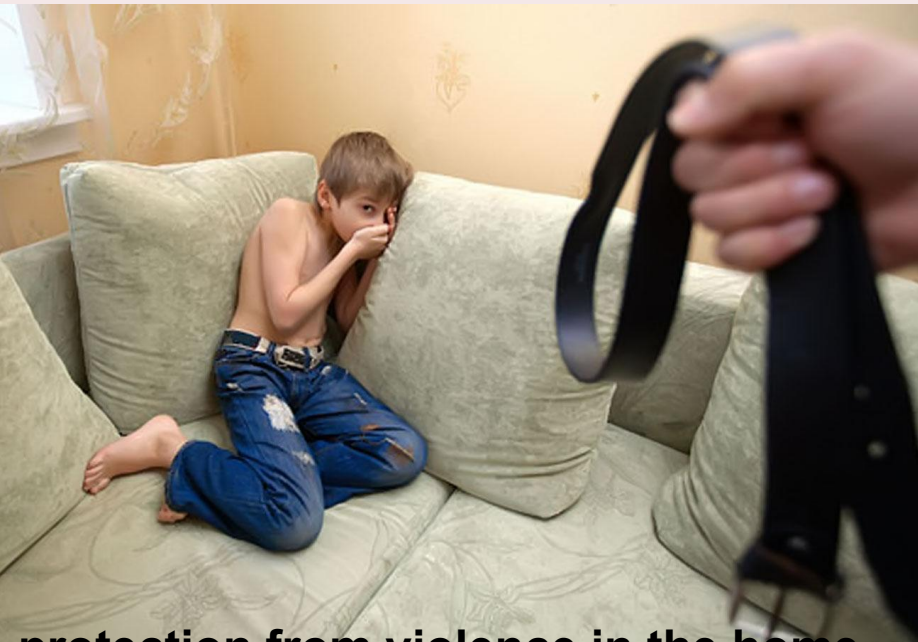

Family law considers:

married

unmarried couples, and their children

custody of and responsibility for children

protection from violence in the home

The law regulated family relations through legislation:

pay of child benefits to mother

prosecution of parents for physically punishing their children protection of children through guardianship

Comparison of the children of various diagnostic groups has shown that the behavior problems found in the sociopathic group seen to be familial.

A problem family is characterized by child-neglect.

A social worker should assess children's needs in order to founding support and the repay provided for family centers.

Impact for women's refuges must be enhanced and placed on a secure footing.

Police training must be improved so that all others are better able to protect children and women in violence situation.

Youngsters could be said to have more reason to fear violent crime because they are the most common victims.

33% of boys, 26 % of girls, said they hit and injured somebody in a public place.

The major criminal actions were assaults on teachers and robberies of teachers, pupils and others.

To sum up, family is an important unit of a society.
Family law in America regulates the all relationship as well in Russia and the UK.
