

The most unusual laws in Great Britain

Every country in the world seems to have a collection of strange laws that are bizarre or just plain wrong, even to the people who live there.

Britain is no exception. I want to hold a competition to see which of these laws are the most stupid.

Top-10 the most ridiculous laws in the UK

- The 10th place. At the Christmas party you must not eat mince pies.
- The 9th place. If you glue the stamp with the image of the Queen head over heels, you'll commit the treason.

- The 8th place. No cows may be driven down the roadway between 10 am and 7 pm unless there is prior approval from the Commissioner of the Police.

- The 7th place. Those wishing to purchase a television must also buy a license.

- The 6th place. With the exception of carrots, most goods may not be sold on Sunday.

- The 5th place. London Hackney Carriages (taxis/cabs) must carry a bale of hay and a sack of oats.

- The 4th place. It is illegal for a cab in the City of London to carry rabid dogs or corpses.
- The 3rd place. It is illegal for a lady to eat chocolates on a public conveyance.

- The 2nd place. Any boy under the age of 10th may not see a naked manequin.
- The 1st place. Picking up abandoned baggage is an act of terrorism.

Thank you for attention!
