UNWRITTEN RULES

THE GOLDEN RULES

- Treat others as you want to be treated yourself.

Why do we follow unwritten rules?

A wide-angle photograph of a calm ocean under a vast blue sky. A soft rainbow is visible on the horizon, with its colors blending into the sea. The water is a deep blue with gentle ripples. The sky is a lighter blue with wispy white clouds. The overall mood is peaceful and expansive.

Let's take our personal experience...

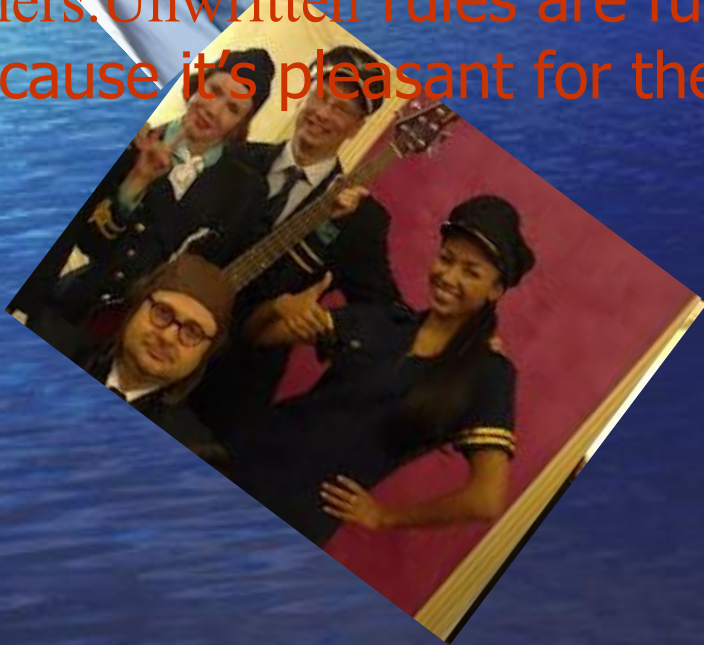

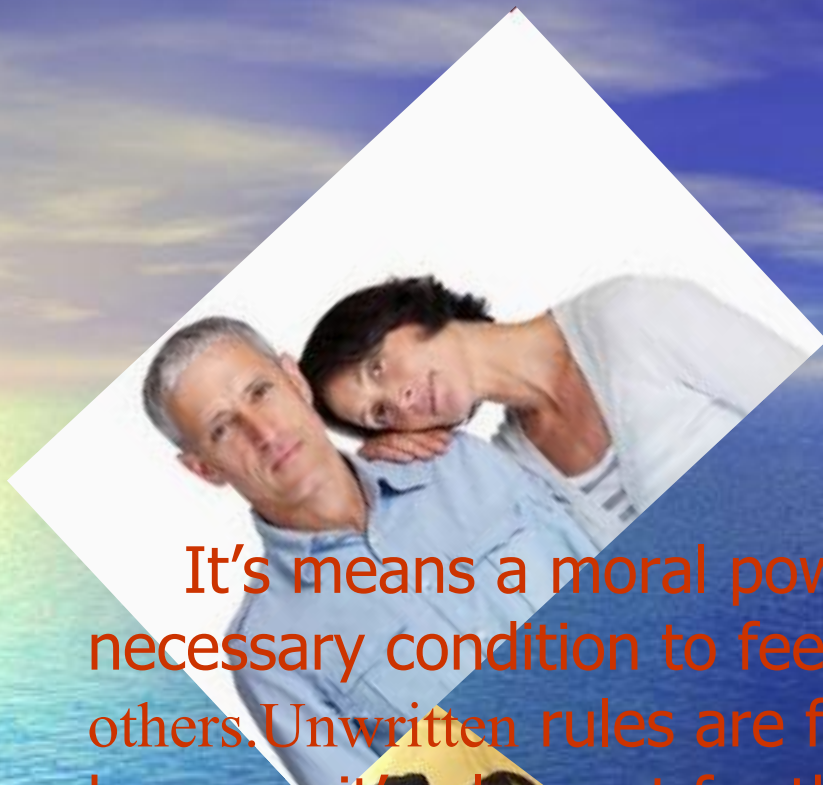

Are we obliged or make it with joy, when we talk to friends, make pleasant things for dears and nears,
make pleasant things for dears and nears
and love and love and love brothers and sisters?

The majority of us are agreed, that these senses is peculiar to a human...

It's means a moral power is peculiar to people. It's necessary condition to feel oneself comfortably among others. Unwritten rules are fulfilled by people voluntarily, because it's pleasant for them.

In other words, it doesn't contradict our personal interest, and, on the contrary, unwritten rules allow us to be realized, namely to get respect for others and self-esteem. They take into interest of other people at the same time.
