

UNIVERSITY OF BIRMINGHAM

The City of Birmingham

The University of Birmingham

- Founded in 1900
- One of the first 'Red Brick' universities in the UK
- Founding member of Russell Group of UK universities
- 20,000 postgraduate and undergraduate students
- 5,500 staff
- Eight Nobel Prize winners among staff and alumni

The University of Birmingham

University Campus

An aerial photograph of a university campus, likely the University of Manchester, showing a dense cluster of buildings, green spaces, and sports fields. The image is annotated with labels and arrows pointing to specific locations. The labels are in white text on colored rectangular backgrounds. The campus features a mix of traditional brick buildings and modern structures, with a prominent clock tower in the center. The surrounding area includes residential neighborhoods and a large green field in the upper left.

Q.E. Hospital

Medical School

New Hospital Site

Electronic, Electrical and Computer Engineering

Metallurgy and Materials

Computer Science

Biosciences

Chemical Engineering

Mathematics

Physics

Chemistry

Civil & Mechanical Engineering

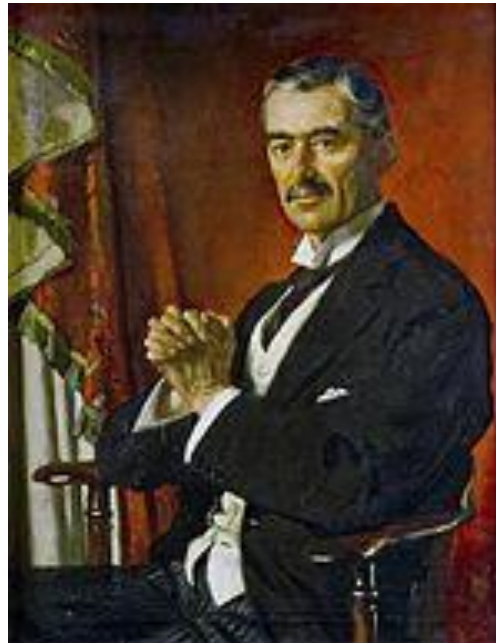

Sport

Interesting facts

Old Joe

Prime Minister Neville
Chamberlain

Barber Institute of Fine Arts

Thank you for your attention!!!!