

Unusual and unique hotels

In 2008, the owners of Hotel Bloom wanted a way to renew the hotel and invited 287 creative young artists from different countries from Europe to paint the rooms of the hotel

The bloom idea comes from the hotels location near the botanical gardens , where flowers, plants, trees and herbs blossom year-round.

In order to keep blooming, Hotel
BLOOM! organises an Art'n BLOOM!
event a few times a year.

At BLOOM! you'll find no stuck up rules.

US $100 to $250 / € 100 to € 250 / UK

Jules Undersea Lodge

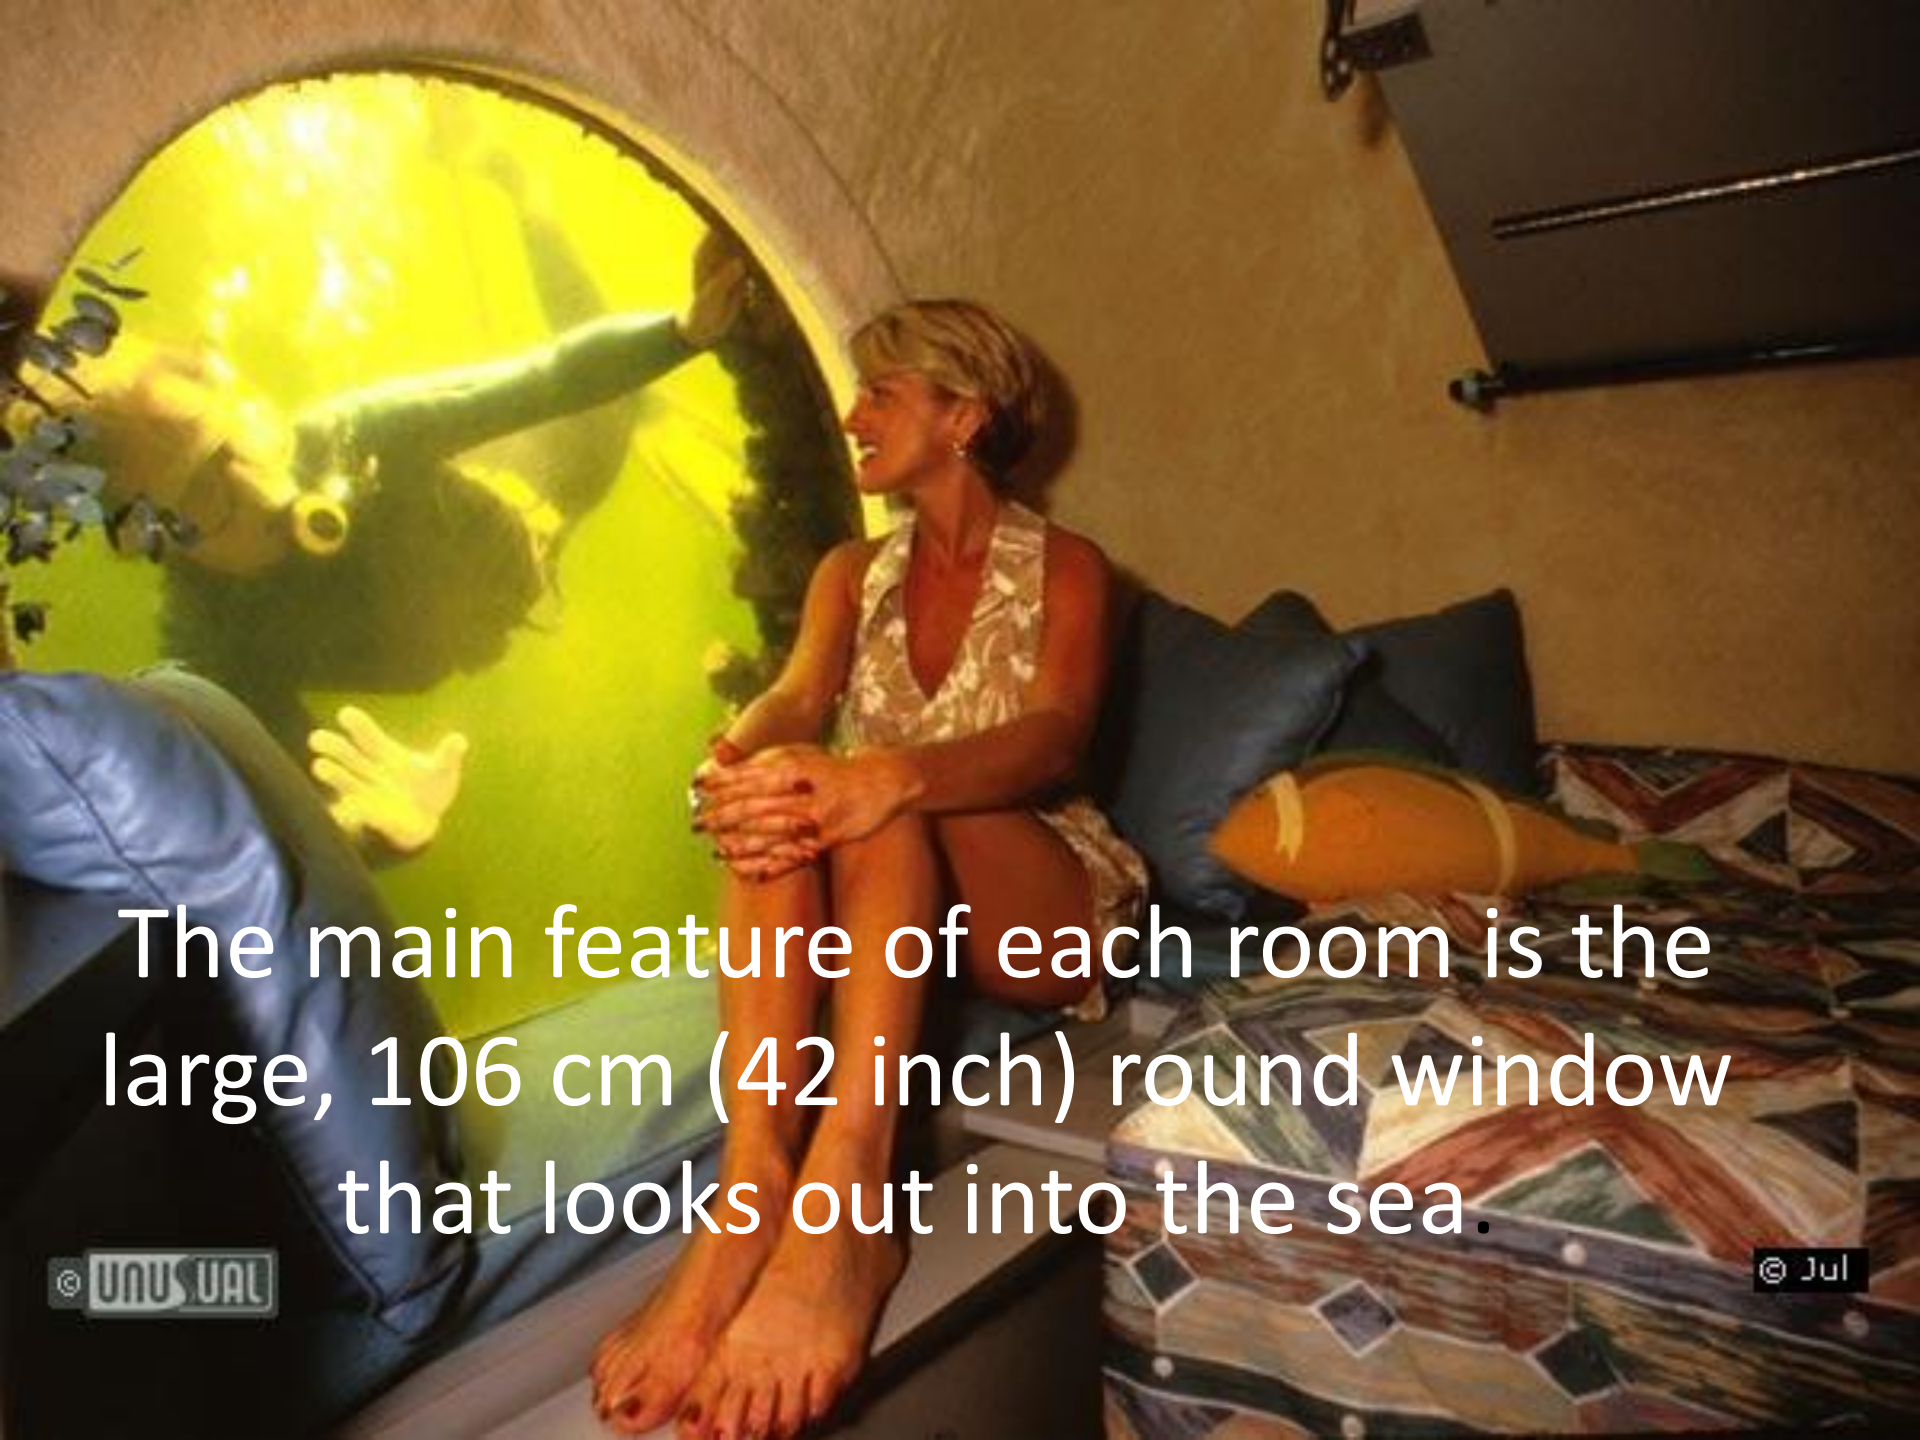

2 underwater rooms for up to 4
guests in total

The cottage sized building isn't short on creature comforts

Just to enter the Lodge, one must actually scuba dive 21 feet beneath the surface of the sea.

A woman with short blonde hair, wearing a white patterned sleeveless dress, is sitting on a bed with a colorful geometric patterned blanket and blue pillows. She is looking out of a large, arched, round window. Through the window, a diver in a blue wetsuit is visible underwater, reaching out with one hand. The water is a bright yellow-green color. The room has a textured, light-colored wall.

The main feature of each room is the large, 106 cm (42 inch) round window that looks out into the sea.

holiday without the environment-damaging facets of life in the city

La Balade des Gnomes

Amazing fairytale rooms and a Trojan Horse suite

These 10 extraordinarily-decorated and furnished bedrooms, evoke ideas from the four corners of the world, re-interpreted as fairy tales.

The image shows a rustic, wooden interior, likely a restaurant or bar. A large, light-colored wooden staircase with a dark wooden railing is prominent on the left. In the background, there is a bar area with a wooden counter and shelves. The walls are made of wood, and there are several small, warm-toned lights. On the right, there is a large, dark wooden chair with a green cushion. The overall atmosphere is cozy and rustic.

Originally opening an innovative restaurant, La Gargouille has taken inspiration from fairytales to construct these amazing bedrooms, next door to the restaurant.

The Atomium is an icon of Brussels built for 1958 World Fair Exposition

One ball of The Atomium has been divided in separate functions: mini spheres

Children spend a night at The Atomium marveling at the panoramic view of Brussels from its spheres

Children make the most of their visit by discovering other symbolic parts of Brussels from a unique vantage point.

At night the mini spheres 'fall' from the sky, like raindrops

Petit Club Sandwich - This is something in between a kitchen and a bar for children.

TreeHouse Hideaway

5 Treehouses merging into jungle and tiger reserve

Guests benefit from the incredible location, outstanding hospitality and a naturalist team.

A photograph of a rustic wooden cabin interior. In the foreground, a white rectangular sink sits on a thick, natural wooden log table. Behind the sink, a wooden shelf holds various items, including a white cup and some toiletries. The cabin walls are made of dark, vertical wooden planks. To the left, a large open doorway leads to a wooden balcony with a metal railing. Outside, there is lush green foliage and trees. A small, square window is visible in the background wall above the sink area.

It is not uncommon to spot animals from the privacy of one's balconies which overlook the tiger reserve and Bandhavgarh Fort.

A photograph of a rustic bedroom interior. The room features dark wood paneling on the walls and ceiling. A bed with a red headboard and red bedding is visible on the right. A large window on the left offers a view of a lush green forest. In the foreground, there is a small round table with a glass and a chair. The text "The bedrooms are furnished with understated, modern accessories in natural and earth tones." is overlaid on the image.
