

Unusual and unique hotels

In 2008, the owners of Hotel Bloom wanted a way to renew the hotel and invited 287 creative young artists from different countries from Europe to paint the rooms of the hotel

The bloom idea comes from the hotels location near the botanical gardens , where flowers, plants, trees and herbs blossom year-round.

In order to keep blooming, Hotel BLOOM! organises an Art'n BLOOM! event a few times a year.

At BLOOM! you'll find no stuck up rules.

Jules Undersea Lodge

2 underwater rooms for up to 4
guests in total

Undersea Lodge

The cottage sized building isn't short on creature comforts

Just to enter the Lodge, one must actually scuba dive 21 feet beneath the surface of the sea.

A woman with short blonde hair, wearing a white patterned sleeveless dress, is sitting on a bed with blue pillows and a colorful patterned blanket. She is looking out of a large, arched, round window. The window is illuminated from within, showing a diver in a blue suit swimming in the water. The diver's arms are outstretched, and a hand is visible near the window. The room has a warm, yellowish light.

The main feature of each room is the large, 106 cm (42 inch) round window that looks out into the sea.

Kumbuk River Resort

KumbukRiver is a 16-acre oasis nestled on a resplendent corner of Sri Lanka's south-east.

Made famous by its massive 2-story primary villa in the shape of an elephant

Visitors can enjoy a memorable holiday without the environment-damaging facets of life in the city

La Balade des Gnomes

Amazing fairytale rooms and a Trojan Horse suite

These 10 extraordinarily-decorated and furnished bedrooms, evoke ideas from the four corners of the world, re-interpreted as fairy tales.

Originally opening an innovative restaurant, La Gargouille has taken inspiration from fairytales to construct these amazing bedrooms, next door to the restaurant.

The Atomium is an icon of Brussels built for 1958 World Fair Exposition

One ball of The Atomium has been divided in separate functions: mini spheres

Children spend a night at The Atomium marveling at the panoramic view of Brussels from its spheres

Children make the most of their visit by discovering other symbolic parts of Brussels from a unique vantage point.

At night the mini spheres 'fall' from the sky, like raindrops

Petit Club Sandwich - This is something in between a kitchen and a bar for children.

TreeHouse Hideaway

5 Treehouses merging into jungle and tiger reserve

Guests benefit from the incredible location, outstanding hospitality and a naturalist team.

The image shows the interior of a rustic wooden cabin. The walls are made of dark, vertical wooden planks. In the foreground, a white rectangular sink is mounted on a thick, natural log table. To the left, a wooden deck balcony is visible through an open doorway, with a folding chair and lush green trees in the background. A small window is visible in the background wall. The text is overlaid in white on the right side of the image.

It is not uncommon to spot animals from the privacy of one's balconies which overlook the tiger reserve and Bandhavgarh Fort.

The bedrooms are furnished with understated, modern accessories in natural and earth tones.

Dining takes place around a large Mahua tree, on two levels.
