

What do russians eat?

а: Илона Кот

Every country in the world has its own cuisine.

Let us start with breakfast.

Dinner in Russia consists of several courses. First course is a soup.

In fact borschch is shi with beet.

Shi is a soup made from meat, cabbage, carrot, potatoes, tomatoes and onion.

Beside soups, Russians have some other tasty things. Golubci and pelmeni are among them.

Second course includes meat and garnish.

A drink in Russia is called third course. It's usually tea, coffee, juice or compote.

My favourite Russian folk tradition is Maslenitsa, or Pancake Week

Olivye is also traditional salad in Russia.

Russians like drink vodka, It is no secret Russians take their vodka very seriously.
