

Basics of marketing

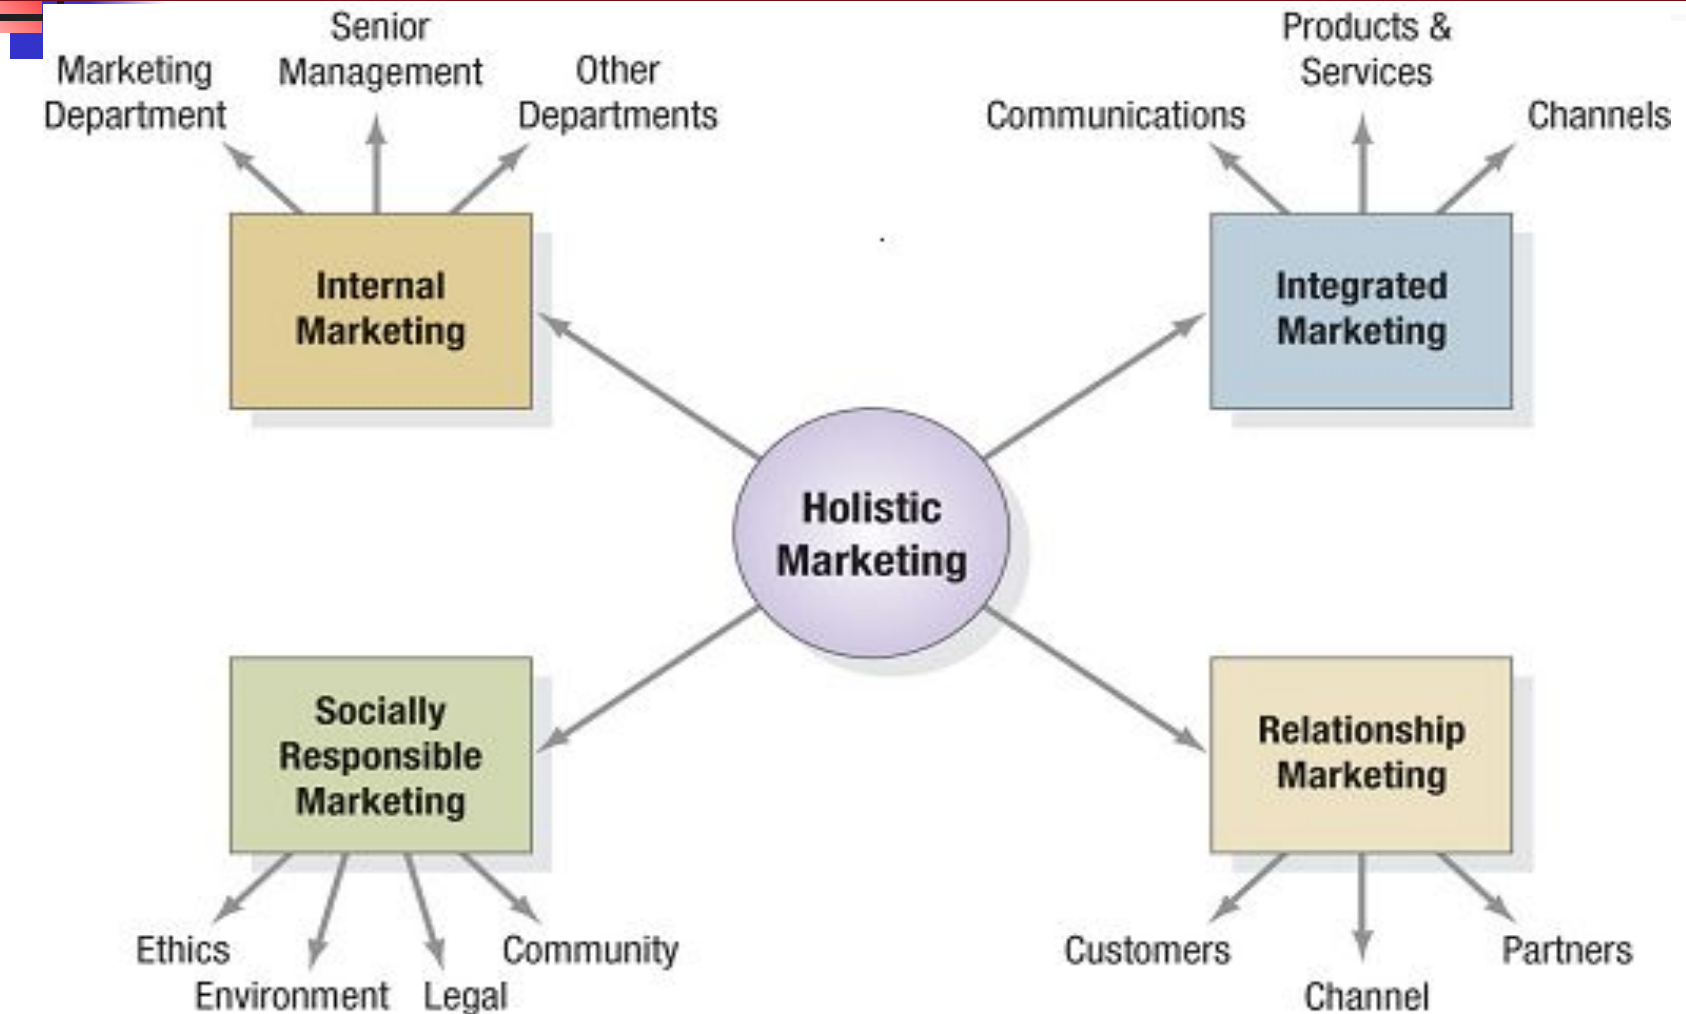

What is Marketing?

Marketing is the process of planning and executing the conception, pricing, promotion, and distribution of ideas, goods, and services to create exchanges that satisfy individual and organizational objectives.

- More simply: Marketing is all about satisfying needs.

Holistic Marketing

Marketing is a Process

- “Marketing is a process of planning and executing...”
- The concept of Relationship Marketing sees marketing as a process of building long-term relationships with customers to keep them satisfied and to keep them coming back.

What is Marketed?

- Goods
- Services
- Events and experiences
- Persons
- Places and properties
- Organizations
- Information
- Ideas

Demand States

- Negative
- Nonexistent
- Latent
- Declining
- Irregular
- Unwholesome
- Full
- Overfull

Marketing is an Exchange of Value

- An exchange is the process by which some transfer of value occurs between a buyer and a seller.
 - At least two people or organizations must be willing to make a trade, and
 - Each must have something the other values.
 - Most exchanges occur in the form of a monetary transaction.

(Almost) Anything Can be Marketed

Needs, Wants and Benefits

Needs

Difference Between a Consumer's Actual State and Some Ideal or Desired State. I'm Hungry!

Wants

Desire to Satisfy Needs in Ways That are Culturally and Socially Influenced. Let's go eat a cheeseburger.

Benefits

Outcome Sought by a Consumer That Motivates Buying Behavior. Now I'm full; I feel better.

Markets, Consumers and Demand

Market

Customers who share a common need that can be satisfied by a specific product AND who are willing, able and have the authority to make the exchange.

Marketing new definition

- Marketing is an organizational function and a set of processes for creating, communicating, and delivering value to customers and for managing customer relationships in ways that benefit the organization and its stakeholders.

How is Marketing Done?

Marketers Develop and Implement a Marketing Plan Based on the Following Information:

Organization's Strengths and Weaknesses

Opportunities and Threats to the Organization in the Marketplace

Organization's Overall Objectives

Finding and Reaching a Target Market

- Step 1. Segmenting the Market
 - Divide the overall market into segments, in which consumers have similar characteristics.
- Step 2. Selecting a Target Market
 - Evaluate the segments identified in the segmentation process; select target market(s).
- Step 3. Positioning the Product
 - Marketer plans the product's market position, which is how the target market perceives the product in comparison to competitors' brands.
