

Australia and New Zealand.

General information and geography.

Lecture 1.

Ludmila Minaeva,
Professor, Lomonosov Moscow State University

Flag and Coat of Arms

Population (2011 Census)

- English
- Australian
- Irish
- Scottish
- Italian
- German
- Chinese
- Indian
- Greek
- Dutch

Australia is surrounded by thousands of islands and coral reefs

Nearly 20 per cent of Australia's land mass is classified as desert

Mountain rangers (Macdonnells, Musgrave).

The most famous rock is Uluru in the Northern Territory, formerly named Ayers Rock

The River Murray and its tributary, the Darling River, are the main rivers in the Murray-Darling River Basin.

Seacoast

Wildlife

Flag and coat of arms of New Zealand

Population – 4,5 mln people

- 69 percent - of European descent
- 14,6 percent - Māori
- - 9.2 percent - Asians
- 6,9 percent - Māori Pacific Islanders
- Capital – Wellington (North Island)

Mountains and volcanoes

Thank you for your attention.

