

Made by Iryna Schulga

There are a good proverb «A Man May Work from Sun to Sun But Woman's Work Is Never Done». It discussed for many years. But if you don't agree with it, I prove it you.

First of all, as far as I know, most important mother's work consists of raising children and household duties.

But there is a work that we don't even notice.

For example, mum always wakes up us early

cooks meals for us
(breakfast, dinner, supper)

Wash and iron our clothes

And even it is not whole list. Mother must keep the house in order and of course it is not easy.

Except household duties, our mothers go to work.

If you are not sure, so read this poem.

A MOTHER'S WORK IS NEVER DONE

A mother's work is never done.
She doesn't have much time for fun.
It's a struggle to get through it;
Only mothers seem to do it:
Wake the kids up with a smile,
Make the breakfast, clean the tile.
Pack the lunches, do the dishes,
Find the socks and grant the wishes.
Bake the cookies, wash the clothes,
Tie the shoes and make the bows.
Wipe the noses, wash the faces,
Stop the fights and check the braces.
Make the snacks and change the diapers,
Call the teachers, pay the pipers.
Make the beds and sweep the floor,
Get the phone and then the door.
Kiss the boo-boo's, feed the pet,
Help with homework, call the vet.
Read the stories, trim the bangs,
Clean the windows, check the fangs.
Laugh at jokes and guess the riddles,
Listen to the horns and fiddles.
Pull the teeth and call the fairy,
Smile a lot and never tarry!
Check for fevers and for pox,
Call the doctor, match the socks.
Set up car pools, do the shopping,
Plan the parties, do the mopping.

You see, mother's life is full of duties.

And we must help her because the mother is the centre of the family thanks whom everything is in order.

We must not forget that mother is the most precious person in life.
