Final recommendations

- ▶ Try to make your presentation simple, short (avoid long sentences) and clear (use familiar vocabulary)
- ▶ Think of what to put on a slide and what to say orally (you know, it's rather stupid when smb puts a huge text and starts reading it from the beginning to the very end, despite the audience is not blind)
- ▶ Ask your classmate, friend or parent to listen and to watch your presentation, ask him or her for advice – what to improve, to change, to shorten.
- ▶ Don't worry – be happy!
- ▶ Use planning techniques, e.g. Draw a logic of your presentation on a big sheet of paper first, or create an empty draft of your presentation file with headlines only and then develop it slide by slide.
