Activity 1

- Creating and mailing letters to potential sponsors

- Reasons this activity will be effective

1. Will make potential sponsors aware of the event
2. Will make them gain interest by showing actual benefits of sponsorship
3. Will allow them to evaluate the costs versus the benefits
4. Will offer reasons to companies that may make them feel more obligated to sponsor, such as the Guitar Congress is a very worthy cause.
5. Will want to sponsor for the increased visibility of their business that will result in economic gain.

Activity 2

- Creating and mailing letters to potential sponsors

(first call by the intern, second call from administrator)

- Reasons this activity will be effective

1. Intern will make sure the potential sponsor received the letter
2. Intern will find out if potential sponsor has any questions or needs any more information, which the administrator will provide.
3. The administrator will provide all information needed and answer all questions to receive a donation or sponsorship.

Activities

Timeline (December through June)

1. Meet with Towson University Client (First week of December)
2. Research what has already been done (who has agreed, who was initially contacted, were follow-up calls made, why did some sponsors decline, etc.) (Second week of December)
3. Brainstorm traditional/nontraditional potential sponsors (Third week of December, sporadically throughout based on responses and need)
4. Reduce list to probable sponsors based on criteria such as does the sponsor already support Towson in another way, does the potential sponsor have conflicting interest, etc. (Third week of December)
5. Create a database with the names, phone numbers, addresses, and contact person for potential sponsors (Second week January)
6. Develop a letter/letters specific to each potential sponsor (do not create a general Dear Manager) Ex. A guitar store will get a different letter than a restaurant because their interests and ability in sponsoring are different (See Appendix for sample letter and checklist for writing letters) (Second week January)
7. Create fact sheet (Second week January)
8. Assemble information packets (Second week of January)
9. Mail letters (Third week of January)
10. Make follow-up calls/visits (Mid-February)
11. Record sponsor information in database (Continuous)
12. Send confirmation letters (April)
13. Decide on sponsor gift (ex. A plaque reading, "In appreciation of your outstanding contribution to the First Annual World Congress of Guitars") (End of April)
14. Order gifts (Mid-May)
15. Contact sponsor close to event to thank and make sure all of their needs have been met (last 2 weeks of May)
16. Present gift to sponsors at final dinner (day-of event)
Send thank you letters (also helps to ensure future sponsorship) (one week after event)

Evaluation

- Identify traditional and nontraditional sponsors
- Invest time to gather proper contact information to ensure that the letters are received and read.
- Send letters (in a timely manner) to businesses in order to create awareness
- Follow-up calls are important to make sure sponsorship information was received and understood.
- Open channels of communication must be maintained between the sponsor and Towson
- Confirmation calls serve as last minute reminders of the event time, date, and location
- Also, the confirmation call provides an additional opportunity for Towson to thank the sponsor.
