

Walt Disney and his heroes.

Walt Disney was born in Chicago, his father being an Irish Canadian, his mother of German-American origin. He revealed a talent for drawing and an interest in photography early on.

In 1923 he left for Hollywood
and for some years

poverty while producing a series of cartoon films.

In 1927 he had some success with the series called “Oswald the Lucky Rabbit”, but it was not until September 1928, when “Steamboat Willy” appeared, the first “Mickey Mouse” with sound, that he achieved lasting

Mickey Mouse became a household word together with such companions as Minnie, Pluto, and – perhaps the favorite of them all – Donald Duck. "The Three Little pigs" and "Snow White and the seven Dwarfs"

In 1955 he branched out into a different enterprise – “Disneyland”, a huge amusement park in southern California.

Disneyland is situated 27 miles south of Los Angeles, at Anaheim. Of all the show-places none is so famous as Disneyland.
