Exotic Car Rentals

Los Angeles

With their razor sharp handling and exceptional good looks, it's no surprise many feel invincible driving an exotic car.

But sadly, they're not and a reckless driver in such a powerful car, can be a deadly combination.

In the spirit of safe driving and keeping the roads safe for everyone, we've compiled a list of tips to exercise when taking your dream car out for a spin:

1. Always wear your seat belt:

Unfortunately, people still need to be reminded. Seat belts save lives and that's a fact. Wearing a seat belt reduces the risk of injury by 50%. So, buckle up!

1. Keep your eyes on the road

It's imperative that you keep your eyes on the road and watch out for other drivers.

Driving an exotic car, can get you a lot of attention and can cause other drivers to easily get distracted by your flashy car. While the attention can be fun, it can be dangerous as drivers will sometimes cut across traffic to get a good look at your car and cause an accident.

2. Know your limits

The thrill of driving an exotic car is the power of the engine and speed. But this is also the reason why you must be cautious and know your driving limits. Just because an exotic car can go from 0 to 60mph in seconds, doesn't mean you should.

Save the speed tests for the driving track, and use caution when sharing the road with others. Driving beyond your driving limits only sets you up to lose control.

3. Familiarize yourself with the car's shifting gears

Wrong shift at the wrong point of a turn can easily cause you and your car to lose control. It's important to familiarize yourself with your car's shifting gears. The balance of a car can change dramatically when changing gears, especially if the shift is jerky.

4. Manuel transmission Cars

Prone to losing control when a driver thinks they're upshifting but instead, they downshift.

Before you take your exotic dream car out for a spin, make sure you spend some time learning how to properly and safely shift its gears.
