“An Ounce of Prevention is Worth a Pound of Cure”
Rust – It is unsightly, unsafe and undesirable! Rust can drastically depreciate your car’s resale value.

HOW RUST STARTS

The way rust usually begins is through the chips and nicks you receive from the pebbles and stones that pepper your car through daily driving.

WHERE TO LOOK FOR RUST

The most likely areas to check for rust would be in and around the wheel wells and on the fenders immediately behind the tires. These are the war zones where your tires will kick up stones and chip the paint.

The front of your car can also catch flying stones from other cars, making this a problem area as well.

HOW TO KEEP RUST FROM STARTING

Clean the dirt from the chips with a rag dampened with mineral spirits and let dry. Using a touch-up brush, dab a little paint on the nick, just enough to fill in the gap.

Visit your manual car wash on a monthly basis and spray the underside of your car and inside the wheel wells too.
