Age

You can see it yourself:

for example, the average age of some big Japanese companies' presidents is about 63, 5; the average age of some American companies' presidents is 59.

In spite of that there are rather many people that consider the younger age to be more productive in such areas. For example, the Sonic Company was founded by a person of 25 years of age.

A man with grey hair and glasses, wearing a blue shirt and a yellow tie, is seated at a desk. He is gesturing with his right hand while looking towards the right. On the desk in front of him are two laptops, a glass pitcher of water, and a green mug. In the foreground, the hands of other people are visible, suggesting a meeting or collaborative work environment. The background is slightly blurred, showing a window with a view of trees.

So one can be a good director no matter what age he is. If only a young person could be as experienced as an older one; if only an older person could be as full of energy as a younger one...

Sex

As for the gender question I would like to share the following with you. Men are usually more definite in taking decisions; women are usually more emotional. If a woman is at the head of a company they say she is lucky to have that position. If a man is at the head of the company everybody considers him to be very experienced.

Education

In the history of many companies there are many cases when some outstanding and very talented directors started their work with very simple jobs and reached those high positions; and also when some heirs when controlling the company failed and the company was bankrupt.

The main rules of William Gates III

1. Life is not fair; get used to it.

Жизнь несправедлива, привыкай к этому.

2. The world won't care about your self-esteem. The world will expect you to accomplish something BEFORE you feel good about yourself.

Миру безразлична твоя самооценка. Люди ждут что ты сначала что-то сделаешь, а уже потом будешь гордиться этим.

3. You will NOT make 40 thousand dollars a year right

5. Flipping burgers is not beneath your dignity. Your grandparents had a different word for burger flipping; they called it opportunity.

Переворачивать бургеры в McDonald не ниже твоего достоинства. У твоих дедов было другое слово для такой работы: шанс.

6. If you mess up, it's not your parents' fault, so don't whine about your mistakes, learn from them.

Если ты облажался, в этом нет вины твоих родителей. Если ты ошибся, не плач, а учись на ошибках.

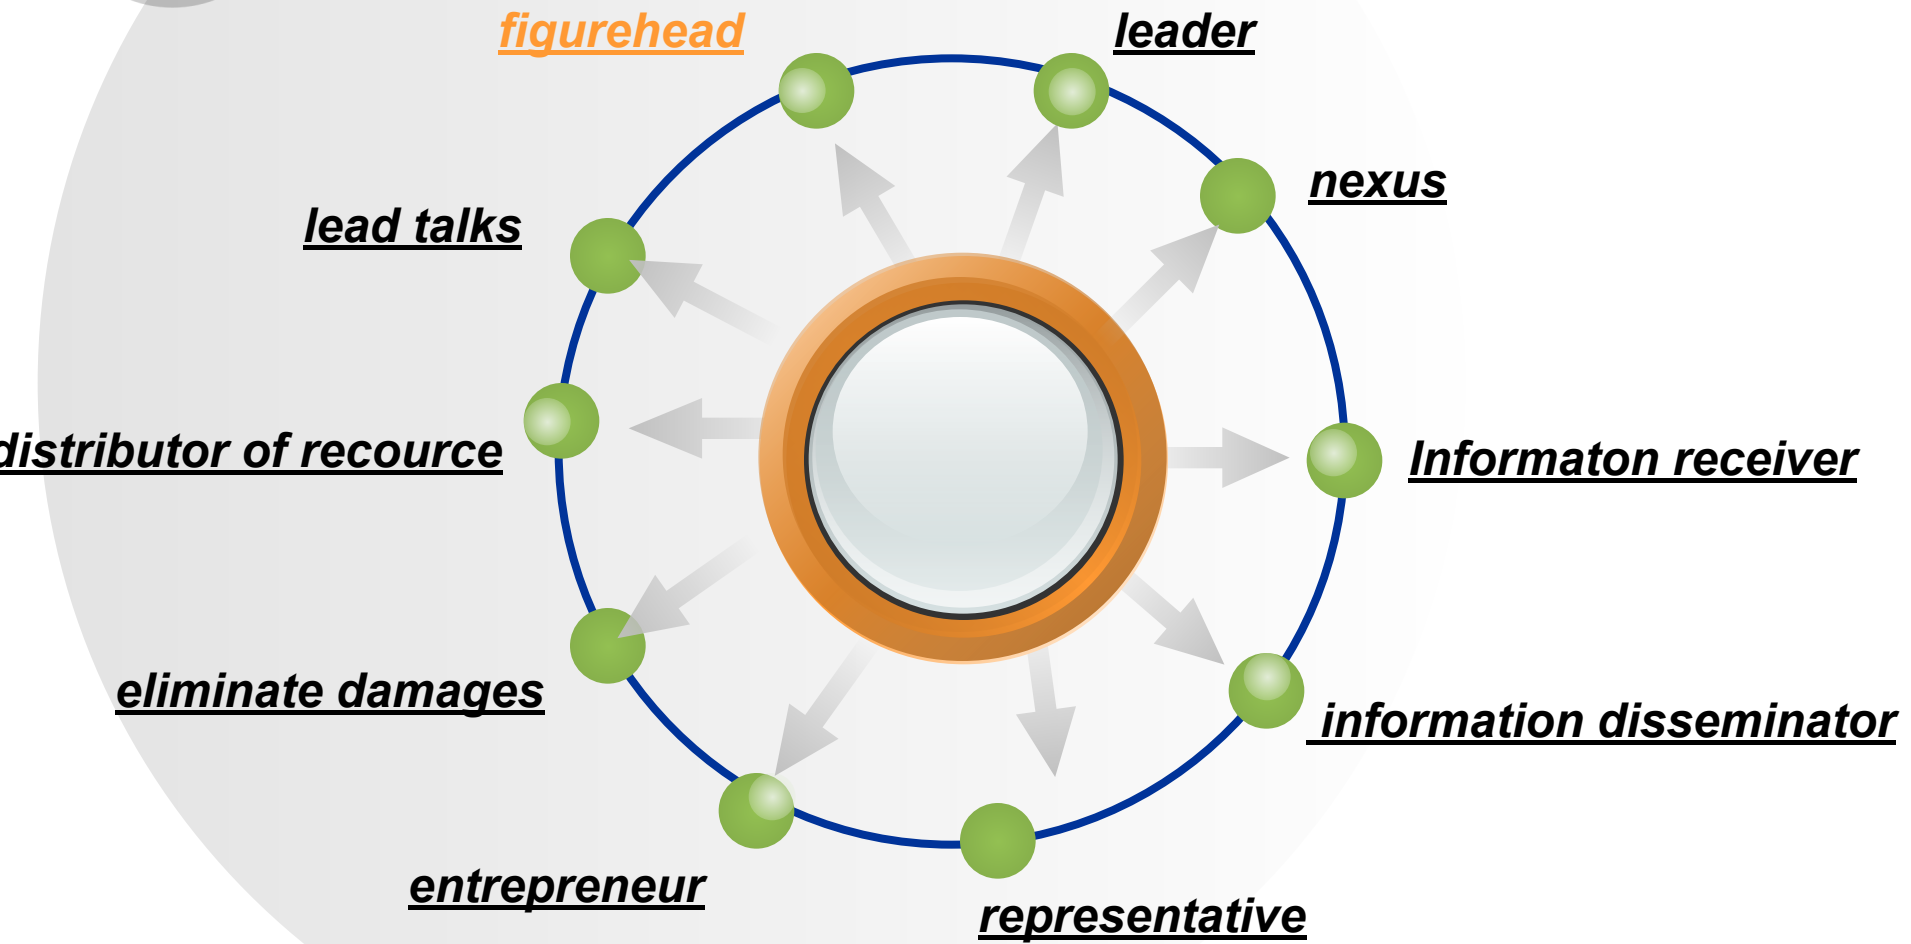

7. Before you were born, your parents weren't as boring as

8. Your school may have done away with winners and losers, but life has not. In some schools they have abolished failing grades; they'll give you as many times as you want to get the right answer. This doesn't bear the slightest resemblance to ANYTHING in real life.

Возможно в твоей школе учеников не делили на победителей и неудачников. В некоторых школах тебе дадут возможность пересдавать до тех пор, пока ты не сделаешь все правильно. Это не имеет ни малейшего отношения к
