Sovereign Digital Investment Strategy

The Sovereign Crypto Investment Strategy in its overall design is similar to a traditional well-diversified stock or bond investment strategy. Based on fundamental and technical research Sovereign assesses what are the most established digital assets with the most promising outlooks and greatest liquidity, and allocates them in the portfolio taking into account overall weighting relative to the rest of the digital asset market as well each protocol's weighing in its sector of the digital assets space.

There are four main sectors of the crypto asset market:

- Blockchain Oracles, or software which links smart contracts to the outside world. Chainlink is the perceived leader in this space.
- Digital store of value. Bitcoin is the market leader in this space.
- General purpose smart contracts. Ethereum is the market leader in this space.
- Privacy. Monero is the market leader in this sector.

Just like the stock market has its well-established sectors, such as Financials, Industrials, Technology, Energy, with leaders in each sector, so does the Crypto asset market.

Given the volatility and the young age of the nascent crypto market, our strategy is to diversify among the different sectors of this digital asset market, and invest only in the "blue chip" assets in the space.

The strategy involves gathering research from several specialist research firms with deep expertise in the digital asset space, combining this information with our own research to develop a sound, well-diversified digital asset portfolio.

Как вариант для вдохновения:

В четырёхугольнике сверху, который идёт от клиента будет Sovereign Digital. Во втором Blockchange и Gemini. А длинный прямоугольник будет как раз показывать систему безопасности и «ХОЛОДНЫЙ» депозитарий с банками.
