Nizhny Tagil

- Our city is located on the eastern slope of the Ural Mountains, among the hills and low mountains in the Tagil River valley.
- Tagil is the second largest city in the Sverdlovsk region, the largest industrial center of the Urals.

Foundation of the city

- Our city was founded by Tula industrialists Nikita and Akinfiy Demidov.
- October 8, 1722 - the day the Vyisky copper-smelting plant was put into operation - became the birthday of the Nizhniy Tagil mining and plant settlement (only on August 20, 1919, Nizhny Tagil received the status of a city).

The world's largest lump of malachite

- In 1836, a huge lump of malachite weighing 1504 kg was found and recovered at the Mednorudyansky mine in Nizhny Tagil.
- Kept in the Museum of the Mining Institute in St. Petersburg

"Ural - the stronghold of the state"

- Every second tank T-34, took part in the fighting during World War II, he came down from the Ural tank factory conveyor.

The symbol of the city

- Near the Tagil pond, on the top of Fox Mountain, there is a Watchtower, built in 1818, which is an architectural monument of the city. According to some reports, the tower was originally used by the Demidovs as an astronomical one, and since 1839 as a meteorological observatory. At the same time, the tower served as a fire tower.
- Now there is a small museum. Festive folk festivals take place on Fox Mountain!

International exhibitions

- International Exhibition of Arms, Military Equipment and Ammunition «Russian Exhibition of Arms. Nizhny Tagil»
- Ural industrial exhibition-fair "UralMetalExpo"

Official symbols of the city

- In the year of its 285th anniversary, Nizhny Tagil received its coat of arms and flag.
- The basis of the city's coat of arms is the seal of the Nizhniy Tagil plant.
- The combination of mining and metalworking is symbolized by mining vines and a hammer for making sheet iron.
- The shield and helmet indicate the role of Uralvagonzavod in the formation of the country's defense power.
- The laurel wreath is for the labor valor of the Tagil residents, as well as for the glory that the Tagil iron won all over the world, holding its positions up to the present time.

- Our city carefully preserves its rich, multifaceted history and looks confidently to the future still remaining glory and pride The Urals and all of Russia.
- And we are the future of Nizhny Tagil!
