INTRODUCTION

You may think that Angelina Jolie is all glamour and glitz but really she also risks her life for refugees. She has visited many undeveloped countries and met with these refugees.

Angelina Jolie works hard on screen and off and is inspirational.

EARLY LIFE

She was born on the 4th of June, 1975 in Los Angeles. She attended El Rodeo school, William Scheafer Elementary school, Beverly Hills High School and finally New York University.

During her high school/university she also attended Lee Strasburg Theory and film institute. She started acting at a young age and studied at Lee Strasburg in her early teens!

ACTING LIFE

In the late 1900's she became quite popular for a television film Gia based on the short, dramatic life of model Gia Marie Carangi. She won the Golden Globe for her acting. In 1999 she got another award for starring in a movie called Girl. Throughout the 2000's she kept on starring in movies. Some that stood out to me were her role in Kung Fu Panda (2008) and Disney's Maleficent.

PERSONAL LIFE

Believe it or not Angelina Jolie got married three times! The first time was to actor Johnny Lee Miller, 2nd time to Billy Thornton and finally to Brad Pitt who she divorced to in 2016. Which has caused HEAPS of news! In 2002, Jolie adopted a son from Cambodia and named him Maddox. In 2005 she adopted a daughter, Zahara. In the same year Pitt. filed paperwork to adopt both of Jolie's

HOW DOES SHE HELP THE WORLD?

Since 2001, Jolie has been on field missions around the world and met with refugees in more than 20 countries, including Tanzania, Cambodia, Pakistan, Thailand, Kosovo, Kenya, Namibia, Sri Lanka to name a few. Her most recent visit was to Haiti to help earthquake victims.

She was named Goodwill ambassador in 2001. She also received the Global

CONCLUSION

So in conclusion Angelina Jolie has balanced all her relationships, refuge work and acting career so she is a busy person. She has helped so many refugees and she is truely inspirational.
