Almost everyone finds Peter charming and his _____ (2) lies in the fact that he's an _____ (3), always taking a positive view of life. In fact many people find his _____ (4) infectious. People who are really _____ (5) suddenly forget all their terrible worries and become full of life.

Another thing I like about Peter is that he is broad-minded and very _____ (6) about everything from religion through food to nationality. I have rarely met anyone with so few prejudices.

Not surprisingly, although Peter lives alone, he always has company, so he never feels _____ (7). On the other hand he doesn't need the help of anyone in spite of being over 80, and lives a very _____ (8) life.

Control Task 2

1. Write an essay on the topic 'Making Friends'.

Focus on the following aspects:

- Ways of making acquaintances at the university (video 'How To Make Friends At University' / Slide 13)
- How to be a better friend (Activity 14 / Slide 14)
- My friend's appearance and personality (Activity 13 / slide 15)

2. Answer the questions about friendship
(Activity 15 / Slide 16)

Eg

Watch the video ‘How To Make Friends At University’ and note down the tips mentioned in the video. Give details on them.

ACTIVITY 14. READ THE FOLLOWING TEXT AND MATCH THE HEADLINES GIVEN IN THE BOX TO THE APPROPRIATE PARAGRAPH.

How to be a better friend

- | | |
|-----------------------|--------------------------|
| a) Be realistic | d) Enjoy it |
| b) Set some standards | e) Don't demand too much |
| c) Be yourself | f) Be a good listener |

1. _____. Instead of giving endless advice learn to listen more. Listening is an underestimated skill, and it is easy to forget when you are worrying about other people's problems. How many times do we say, «Oh yea, that happened to me and ...» before we give the other person a chance to explain what happened to them. Sometimes a friend may just want to talk something over with someone else to sort things out in their own mind – so listen hard to what they are saying, and try to offer advice only when you think they are asking for it.

2. _____. We often feel we have been let down by a friend at some point in our life. Perhaps they let out a secret we trusted them to keep under wraps, or suddenly sided with the opposition during an argument. Nobody is perfect, so try to have realistic expectations. Friendships don't develop overnight, they deepen over time as you begin to trust one another. Don't place unrealistic demands on your friendship.

3. _____. Everyone wants to be liked, but trying too hard to be popular shows. So stop worrying whether people like you or not, just get on with the business of being you. There can be a great temptation to make people like us by changing our personality to suit others. However, this can make you extremely unhappy in the long run. Of course, not everyone is going to think you are great, but the chances are the ones who don't like the way you are, aren't going to make particularly good friends anyway.

4. _____. Friendships are based on trust, and if that's betrayed, the whole relationship breaks down. If you want people to be trustworthy and honest with you then you are going to have to offer the same standards in return.

5. _____. Many friendships break down simply because one person demands too much of the other. Asking a friend for support and advice is one thing, but expecting them to organize your life for you, or get you out of every sticky situation you find yourself in, is another. Asking a friend to lie for you all the time, or talking about things they don't want to discuss only does damage in the long run.

6. _____. What more can we possibly say? Friendships are to be enjoyed – so make the most of them!

ACTIVITY 13. READ THE TEXT BELOW WHICH IS AN ESSAY OF AN ENGLISH SCHOOLGIRL DESCRIBING HER FRIEND. THEN EITHER WRITE AN ESSAY OR SPEAK ABOUT YOUR FRIEND FOLLOWING THE GUIDELINES GIVEN BELOW THE TEXT.

About my friend

Janet is my best friend; we go to school together. We have been friends for 5 years already, since she came to our school. Some people say that we look alike but I don't think so. Janet has blue eyes and fair hair, while my eyes are brown and I'm dark-haired. She has a lovely fresh complexion and a beautiful mouth with full lips, but she is short-sighted so she wears contact lenses. Janet is quite tall and has a beautiful slim figure. Actually we are the same height and build, maybe that is why our neighbours sometimes take me for Janet. Janet is very smart and looks really attractive when she dresses up to go out with her boyfriend.

Janet likes studying languages and is thinking of learning them at the university to be able to work later for a travel agency. She can already speak French and Spanish fluently and is learning modern Greek. Janet loves being with crowds of people and makes friends easily. She loves going to parties, and there she immediately becomes the centre of attention. Janet is good at games but never takes them seriously, so when we play tennis, I always win because she doesn't care if she wins or loses.

Janet is very witty and amusing and she always cheers me up when I am depressed because she has a wonderful sense of humour. I think her only fault is that she is restless and gets bored easily. She is an intelligent and hard-working person, but she doesn't get good marks at school because she doesn't study enough. I admire her because she is so bright and energetic, but I think it is a good thing that both her boyfriend and I are calm and tolerant, and when she is impatient with us we just laugh, and then she laughs, too.

Guided essay/story:

- name, relation, age
 - appearance – eyes, hair, face
 - special features, figure, dress
 - study, work
 - hobbies, interests
 - games
 - personal qualities
 - faults
 - conclusion
- General size and build: short or tall, thin or plump, etc.
 - Clothes your friend might wear.
 - The colour of the hair and the hairdo.
 - Something special in your friend's appearance, e.g. a birthmark, a scar, a grey strand of hair, etc.

ACTIVITY 15. ANSWER THE FOLLOWING QUESTIONS ABOUT YOURSELF, YOUR FRIENDS AND YOUR IDEAS ABOUT FRIENDSHIP.

- Do you like to give advice to your friends or ask them for advice?
- Have you ever let down your friends or felt that they had let you down? Can you forgive this? Have you been forgiven?
- What do you think of this ancient saying «Socrates is my friend but the truth is dearer to me.»?

My friend's appearance and personalityPart I

- If your friend does not support you in an argument, are you offended or respect his/ her opinion?
- Have you ever let out a secret your friend entrusted you with? How did you feel after that? Has the opposite happened in your relations with your friends?
- Usually there is a leading and a supporting partner in a friendship. Two leaders very seldom get on well together. In your relationship with your friend which partner are you? If you are a leader, are you always considerate about your friend's feelings? If you are a supporting partner, do you try to suit yourself to the demand of the leader?
- Have you ever asked you friend to lie for you or support you in an awkward situation? What was his/her reaction?
- What do you appreciate most of all in your friend(s)?

Thank you for your attention!
