

The Mediterranean vector of French foreign policy in the Late
20th and Early 21st Centuries

PLAN

Chapter 1. Ideological justification of French colonial policy in the second half of the twentieth century.

- 1.1. The justification of the colonial status in Gaullism;
- 1.2. France's cooperation with the Arab world as a mechanism for maintaining French domination;
- 1.3. The Mediterranean in pogolite Nicolas Sarkozy.

Chapter 2. Stages of formation of the "Mediterranean partnership»

- 2.1. Barcelona process;
- 2.2. Mediterranean partnership;
- 2.3. From the Mediterranean Union to the Union for the Mediterranean.

Chapter 3. France's Mediterranean policy after the Arab spring

Hypothesis

If France manages to extend its influence to the eastern and southern Mediterranean, then perhaps Europe will split into 2 poles, Eastern Europe will be under the control of Germany, and Southern Europe will be under the auspices of France.
