quarrel and reconciliation

Ann, Diana, and Ruby had been friends since childhood. Ann had a heart of gold, Diana was very smart, she always helped the girls with their studies, and ruby was the most fun in the group, thanks to her, the girls were never bored. As soon as they quarreled, the quarrel broke their hearts. Ann didn't want to do good things, Diana couldn't learn, and Ruby was sad. But the girls decided to have a heart-to-heart talk and became best friends again.
