The image shows a screenshot of a software window titled "EclipseCrossword". The window has a standard Windows-style title bar with minimize, maximize, and close buttons. The main content area is titled "Step 5 — Define crossword size" and features a small icon of a crossword puzzle grid. Below the title, the text asks "How big would you like the puzzle to be?" and provides instructions: "You may choose how large the generated crossword puzzle should be. Type the maximum width and height of the crossword puzzle in the boxes below. (The resulting puzzle may be smaller than this size, but never larger.)" It also states "This crossword puzzle must be at least 6 letters square." There are two input fields: the first is labeled "I want the crossword puzzle to be" and contains the number "10", followed by the text "letters wide, by"; the second is labeled "10" and followed by the text "letters tall." Below these fields, it says "Once you are satisfied, click the 'next' link below." At the bottom of the window is a blue bar with several buttons: "About" (with a puzzle grid icon), "Options" (with a gear icon), "Help" (with a question mark icon), "Back" (with a left arrow icon), "Next" (with a right arrow icon), and "Close" (with a red X icon).
