

Starlight 8

Module 4a

UFO -
unidentified flying object

Starlight 8 Module 4a

DAILY NEWS

8 th July, 1947

FLYING SAUCER
CAPTURED ON RANCH IN ROSWELL REGION

EXTRA! EXTRA!

READ ALL ABOUT IT!

POLICE OFFICER REPORTED A SIGHTING OF AN ALIEN SPACECRAFT IN SOCORRO, NEW MEXICO

THE NEWS

STRANGE
WRECKAGE & ALIEN
BODIES EXAMINED
AT ROSWELL ARMY
BASE

SUPER NEWS!

THOUSANDS WITNESS
STRANGE LIGHTS OVER PHOENIX, ARIZONA.

unfold to develop

report (on) to tell people about sth as part of your job

sceptic sb who doubts sth that others believe

freeway motorway

lined with having sth along both sides of sth else

billboard a large board on which advertisements are displayed

assignment a task/project

spot location

cattle farmer sb who raises cows and bulls

weather balloon (n) device that carries instruments for recording the weather

debris (n) broken pieces of sth that has been destroyed

aircraft (n) any vehicle that can fly up in the air

hangar (n) a big building where aircraft are kept

army base a location with military buildings and weapons where members of the army live and work remains (pl n) pieces of sth left after it has been destroyed eye-witness account (phr) the description of an event from sb who has seen sth

hieroglyphics (pl n) a kind of writing autopsy (n) the examination of a dead body to find out the cause of death

oval-shaped (adj) shaped like an egg burst (v) (of flames) to burn strongly all of a sudden hotspot (n) popular location

weird (adj): strange

formation (n) arrangement

doubtful (adj) uncertain

eerie (adj) strange and frightening

rattlesnake (n) a poisonous snake

Ex. 3 p.69

- 2 A Instead, I disturbed an enormous rattlesnake and quickly made my way back!
- 5 B I was a bit disappointed that I saw nothing worth photographing that night.
- 4 C "Wait until tonight," the tour guide told me.
- 1 D I couldn't help smiling at these amusing sights.
- E ~~I started to lose hope during the night.~~
- 3 F As we headed back to the hotel, I stared up into the starry night and couldn't help wondering if anyone – or anything – was looking down!