

A scenic view of a rocky streambed with a large rock in the foreground, overlaid with a light blue decorative graphic and a text box. The background shows a streambed with various sized grey and brown rocks, some with patches of moss. The water is shallow and clear, reflecting the surrounding environment. The lighting is warm, suggesting a sunset or sunrise. A decorative graphic of concentric white lines is overlaid on the left and right sides of the image. A light blue rectangular box is centered over the image, containing the text "WELCOME TO WALES...".
